Santa Claus Comes To Newmarket Dec. 2 Gift For Every Child

Santa Claus comes to Newmarket on Saturday morning. He will be greeted by a reception committee on Davis Dr. where the parade will form. The parade will travel south on Main St., along D'Arcy St. to Church St., north on Church St. to Timothy, and along Timothy St. to the town hall.

The parade will start at 10.30 a.m.

Santa will greet his little friends on the steps on the east side of the town hall if the weather permits. Otherwise, he will move indoors. Each child will receive a gift of candy and fruit when he chats with Santa.

The parade is being sponsored by the merchants of Newmarket as a Christmas treat for the children of the district. Several Newmarket businessmen have volunteered floats, and for any others who wish to, there is still time to prepare a float.

The editors of the Era and Express are in charge of the arrangements.

As last year, there will be many costumed marchers in the parade with additions of Dog-patch characters, strange animals whose front feet go one direction while their back feet go another, comic strip characters and the drum majorettes.

Santa's float will be drawn by the prize-winning team of Sheldon Walker, Queensville. Both bands will be present.

Contributions for the parade have been made by:

Legion To Open Book Depots For Korea Force

Newmarket citizens can supply reading material to Canadian soldiers who have gone to Korea. The Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion will have two book depots open next Monday where pocket books or hard cover books may be left for shipment to Canadian forces.

The education branch of the Legion is at work again in the last war providing educational facilities for the forces. A committee has been set up under Maj. T. M. Ewing in the Newmarket branch which will send books to Toronto for shipment to Korea. Citizens are asked to contribute books to the Tobey twins at the Embassy Beauty Salon or Al Apps at the Dominion Store. Additional depots will be opened later.

The Legion has plans to start sending parcels to any Newmarket men in Korean forces in the near future. A shipment has already been made to one Newmarket soldier in the Korean forces, Bill Denne, who is either in Korea or on his way.

RAISE TAXI RATES

The two Newmarket taxi companies are raising their rates for calls in town from 35 cents to 45 cents, effective on Tuesday, the day following the election. Spokesmen for the Newmarket and Vets taxi companies say that the move, long delayed, is forced upon them by increased operating costs.

Find Medical Facilities Adequate in District

Farm families in the Newmarket district feel there is sufficient medical and dental facilities. That is the opinion reached by two farm forums at least, Holt and Bogartown, meeting on Monday to discuss the question: "What's happened to the country doctor?" concluded that the medical and dental services are quite adequate.

Holt added a qualification to this approval, however, with the suggestion that the doctors provide for ready medical aid during holidays and on the weekends. The Holt Forum met at the home of Walter Rate, and the Bogartown Forum met at the home of C. Greenwood.

Losing Chief Attraction Linton Urges District Develop Historical Sites

The need to emphasize historical sites and associations was stressed by Ross Linton, Aurora, at a meeting of the Newmarket Lions club on Monday. Members of the Aurora club were guests at Newmarket. Mr. Linton is former mayor of Aurora and this year president of the Aurora board of trade.

To illustrate the need for more public consciousness of the past, Mr. Linton gave a brief sketch of the life of Etienne Brule, first white man to penetrate the wilderness of Ontario. He told of Brule's travels through this district and of a brief trip he made into what is now Pennsylvania. "In Pennsylvania, Brule is something of a state hero," he said. "Scout troops are named after him. The boys idolize him. Everyone knows about him. But actually, most of his life in the wilds was spent in the Georgian Bay district."

"Pennsylvania claims him as a hero, a sort of founding father. But Ontario, with far greater claim on his name, practically ignores him," he said. He cited other instances where district historical sites were ignored completely. "Yet it is a known fact that tourists travel far to see such attractions and by paying little heed to them even when they are on the front doorstep, we are losing a major attraction to tourists."

He urged a program in the district to develop historical sites and preserve them.

Frank Underhill also spoke, reminiscing about the friendly rivalry between Aurora and Newmarket. "I remember when a lacrosse team setting out for the other town used to leave their full name, address and next of kin with the authorities," he said. Rod V. Smith showed sport films.

The Aurora club was made welcome by president Pete Bastardo and thanks returned by the Aurora president, Charles Peterson.

The lights went out in the Main St. business section and some residential sections in Newmarket late Saturday afternoon as the wind broke feeder lines at the foot of Main St. Merchants and staff did business by candlelight and lanterns.

To the hazard of the darkness was added huge pools of slush which accumulated in the streets and were widely splashed by traffic.

Telephone service was broken north of Newmarket for part of Saturday and well into Sunday as wires were carried away. Hydro service was also off outside of town. One district hydro office reported 100 calls within a couple of hours.

H.S. Graduates Honored At Aurora And Newmarket Commencement Exercises

Commencement exercises were held at Newmarket high school on Friday night. In Aurora, exercises were also held on Thursday and Friday nights. A. N. Belugin, chairman of the Newmarket-Sutton high school district board, presented diplomas to the honor graduates from Newmarket and members of the board presented prizes and diplomas to intermediate and lower school pupils.

Mr. Belugin told the graduates that commencement to them would mean a new beginning in each of their lives. He described the greater academic scope which will be provided on the completion of a new wing with the addition of vocational facilities at the high school.

A dinner was held for the graduates, members of the board, staff and senior students early in the evening. Principal J. W. Lockhart acted as chairman of the commencement program. A dance was held afterwards. The program featured the glee club and also a student pianist, Edward Riddell.

Maj. T. M. Ewing, on behalf of the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion, presented Allan Jackson with a framed certificate for his prize-winning essay sponsored by the Provincial Command. Maj. Ewing noted that Prime Minister St. Laurent had quoted from the composition in one of his recent speeches. The valedictory address, reminiscent of school days, was given by David Preston. Vice president of the Alumni Association, Denne Bosworth replied.

Four girls, Mary Stocks, Mary Adams, Betty Holman and Heather Moffat were in the cast of characters in "A Room in a Tower", which was a feature of the Aurora high school commencement. Principal J. E. Knowles outlined the work of the past year by the pupils both in the academic field and on the athletic field. He congratulated scholarship winners and those who took athletic awards. He remarked on the future educational facilities planned for the school.

The storm tie-up at Thornhill on highway 11 delayed several bound for commencements in both Newmarket and Aurora. Among them was Aileen Scott of King, winner of the Dominion-Provincial scholarship and Barbara McCachen who left Toronto late in the afternoon and arrived at Aurora at 11 p.m. Richard Bull was more fortunate arriving with Bill Dale of Schomberg at Aurora at 9 p.m. Grant Stephenson arrived at 11 p.m.

Academic scholarships were presented to Anne Stephenson and Richard Bull both of Oak Ridges, at Aurora high school Commencement. Anne was presented with the King town-ship trophy.

Make Christmas Happier

In another four weeks, Christmas will be here. How will you spend the day? Will there be friends with you? A family gathering about the turkey? Will your house echo with the laughter of children opening gifts that Santa has brought them the night before?

For most of us, Christmas will be a day of happiness. But there are some for whom the joy of Christmas will be lacking. There will be no festivity, no Christmas dinner. Their children, watching their happy neighbors, must come home to empty stockings. In these homes, circumstances have left the parents bereft. There is no money to spend on Christmas pleasures. Many of them will be fortunate if they are adequately warmed, if they can have a full meal.

All of us, at some time or another, are victims of unfortunate circumstances. All of us have wished for a helping hand, the assistance of a friend who could tide us over a rough spot.

Each year, the Newmarket Lions club assembles Christmas baskets for those who need a helping hand. The baskets are provided for by the contributions of the citizens, and distributed by the club on Christmas eve. Last year, the club spent almost $300 in this work. This year, the need is even greater. Won't you be a friend to the less fortunate? You can, by simply placing your contribution at anyone of the three banks or with The Era and Express.

Christmas is a time of giving. Make your Christmas happier with the knowledge that you have helped another.

Mount Albert News

Nomination meeting held Monday evening in the town hall was fairly well attended but there were many more who should have been there. Reg Willbee was in charge of nominations and the following names were submitted: R. Sinclair, Garfield Oldham, Roy Carr, Morley Case, Gordon Young, Alf Jarvis, Dawson Dike, Seymour Harper, all of whom thanked their nominators and gave reasons for not wanting office. At the close it looked like no election and the old board of Cass, Carr and Sinclair was returned. Mr. R. Silver was then put in as chairman and Reg Willbee as secretary and a general discussion of things in general took place. A report of the new fire equipment proved satisfactory as so far it is a paying proposition and the chief, Bruce Rolling, and his men deserve the hearty thanks of all for the way the work of getting the new fire hall completed has been carried on. Many have given a great deal of free labor.

It was urged that the by-law for street cleaning of snow be rigidly enforced and each one was asked to do his part toward this in looking after his own. The trustees were asked to look into getting prices on a mechanical device for cleaning sidewalks as many places had no one to do it. Also a strong complaint about dogs running at large when they should be tied up should make the guilty ones feel rather uncomfortable or at least ashamed.

The fact that ditches were not kept open and cellars flooded in the lower part of the town also caused many complaints and the town fathers-to-be were asked to look after this in plenty of time, not leave it till too late to do any good.

The chamber of commerce asked for a survey of the town which would be a decided improvement to all, especially in selling property. This is expected to go through in the near future.

An honorarium was voted the police trustees of $50 for the secretary-treasurer and $40 for each of the others. They surely deserve something for the work and abuse they take in accepting the position.

There will be a Christmas concert in Mrs. Pearson's school on the 8th on Friday, Dec. 15, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Allison attended the funeral in Toronto on Monday of their brother-in-law, Mr. J. Wesley Woodcock, a former resident and businessman of Mount Albert.

Girls' Softball Banquet

Mount Albert Ladies' Softball club had a successful banquet November 21 when 140 friends and supporters of the team sat down to a bounteous hot turkey supper to which the Women's Institute catered.

The Taylor Beale trophy won by the team this season adorned the centre of the head table.

Following the supper the master of ceremonies, Mr. Roy Stewart, proposed a toast to the King to which all responded by singing God Save the King. The old song Let's Go Out To The Ballgame was sung. Mr. Stewart introduced all team members and coaches.

A toast to the team was proposed by Mr. Snider. He congratulated the girls on their success during the past season. Bertha Crone responded in her witty way. She gave a great deal of credit to the fans who cheered the girls on to victory.

A toast to the helpers in the community was proposed by Gladys Rolling. She told how the Canadian Legion and businessmen of Mount Albert came to the rescue of the team when they needed financial help so badly. All those who so loyally supported the girls were mentioned including the members of the Women's Institute who were responsible for such a fine supper.

Taylor Beale, in reply, mentioned that the community was only too glad to support the team and wished them every success in coming years. All team members and coaches were then presented with grey cardigan sweaters. On behalf of the girls, Ruth Simpson presented their manager, Gladys Rolling, with a lovely engraved compact. Mrs. Rolling thanked the girls saying what a fine group they were to work with and how loyal they were to their team.

The remainder of the evening was spent in watching films put on by the National Film board. On Thursday evening a group of friends met at Mrs. James Thompson's home to shower the bride-to-be, Marie Mitchell, with many useful and lovely gifts.

An address was read by Betty Rolling following which she and Donna Rolling brought in the presents. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

In Police Report

The annual Police report submitted to the Aurora council by Chief Constable Fisher Dunham stated that 102 summonses had been served during the year and $2,485 collected in fines. Deducted by the clerk of the magistrate's court for magistrate fees, witness fees, provincial treasurer and crown attorney's fees, the balance of revenue for the town was $1,292.74.

The summary covered a long list of police activity among which were the investigation of 30 motor vehicle accidents, 21 breaches of the liquor act, 25 payroll escorts and 20 cases of theft. Convictions at court totalled 272 with 226 speeding convictions heading the list.

Recommendations to council from the chief were for an additional full time constable and a dog catcher. Work of the police force in the past has been greatly hampered by the lack of a radio equipped police cruiser, he said. Chief Dunham pointed out one instance when an officer recovered $1,800 worth of stolen goods and a stolen car, but had to leave the scene to call assistance. The offenders were able to make their get-away.

The requirements for a cell block considered by council earlier in the year were mentioned again by the chief. To date, a suitable place for a cell has not been available.

Members of council paid compliments to the report and the efficient work done by the two members of the Aurora police force.

YOUNG HOPEFULS

By Dorothy Muir Bowman

Barrie, ten years old, has learned the meaning of co-operation as a result of his recent camping experience.

In Barrie's neighborhood there was no one more in demand than Barrie's father when a ball game was scheduled. However, on the particular night in question no ball game was scheduled and Barrie's father was busy mowing the yard and trimming. When the neighborhood boys descended upon him and asked him to coach and referee at the ball park, he declined because of the unfinished work he had begun. Then the boys put the pressure on Barrie, trying to get him to influence his father.

Barrie became master of the situation. His father couldn't believe it was his own son talking. The substance of what Barrie had to say was to the effect that the reason his father couldn't assist them was because he wouldn't have time after he had finished with the lawn. "However, if we all pitch in and help, we can finish this job and there will be plenty of time for the ball game."

Extra lawn mowers and clippers were soon busy on the lawn and the seemingly tremendous undertaking was finished in a matter of a few minutes. It was a novel experience but one which the boys agree to repeat. They see the fairness in helping someone who has always been so willing to help them.

When Barrie's parents asked him how he happened to think of the idea, he said, "That's the way we get things done at camp. Our counsellors wouldn't have time to help us if we didn't help them tidy the grounds, cut wood, wash dishes and peel potatoes. We call it co-operation."

Barrie has certainly been sold on the idea of co-operation for quick results and better results. With his present frame of mind he would make an especially welcome guest in anyone's home—allowing the host and hostess time for pleasure, too.

Too frequently the joys of entertaining are dampened by the extra work involved unless a co-operative system is functioning.

FARMERS Attention!

Wanted, a number of progressive farmers in Western districts who would like to set out a commercial block of red raspberries either for your local trade or for shipping to city dealers. Prices 30-40 cents per quart indicate good demand everywhere.

To encourage a limited planting of new high-yielding patches, a nurseryman of many years' experience in commercial production will personally interview and advise interested farmers in raspberry culture. This should result in higher unit yield, longer patch life, less hand labor and when translated into dollars at normal prices a relatively high ratio of profit is assured.

If genuinely interested in berry growing as a side-line to farming, mail this advertisement in care of this paper.

Mayer Alex Bell Returned Contest For Other Seats On Aurora Town Council

Mayor by acclamation, Alex. Bell received an endorsement of confidence and approval when John Sisman, who had been nominated to oppose him, withdrew his name before the deadline for qualification. The public school board candidates, all members last year, Dr. E. J. Henderson, Mrs. Lorne C. Lee and Charles Petersen, received acclamation as did George Baldwin as hydro commissioner.

Running for reeve will be A. A. Cook with a three-year record in that office and Lorne Evans, former reeve of Whitchurch. The post of deputy-reeve will be contested for by James Murray, present member of council, and B. D. Gilbert.

Four members of last year's council, all veterans of three years and more council experience, qualified to stand for re-election. They are Charles Davies, Harold Pringle, Victor Jones and Clifford Corbett. New names on the list this year are Mrs. Earl C. Feilding, Ralph Tucker and Robert Gundy.

The tannery odor was again a plank in the election platform at nomination meeting Monday. Mayor Bell, the first speaker, related how council had taken the matter up with the Collis Leather Co. early in the spring with the result that the company agreed to remove the solids to a dump. He informed the voters that a serious law suit which had been threatened against the town was avoided by the improvement in the condition which has prevailed for years.

Councillor Charles Davies said the mayor might have conveyed the impression that this method was a cure. "Let us not be lulled into a sense of false security, the tannery odor is not beaten yet and will not be licked until either a disposal plant is built on the Collis Leather property or the town plant is extended to take care of the effluents," said Mr. Davies.

Councillor Don Glass spoke in support of Charles Davies' statement and reminded the voters money would have to be spent in the near future before the condition would be completely eliminated.

The mayor outlined a number of things that would have to be dealt with by the 1951 council. Foremost among them was a municipal parking lot and the recommendations of Chief Constable Fisher Dunham regarding another full time constable and a police cruiser equipped with a radio tuned to provincial police frequency. He was not in favor of the proposal for a dog catcher.

His final statement that Aurora must have a municipal hall, preferably on Yonge St., and that he would oppose the proposed use of the old public school for this purpose concluded his nomination address.

An Aurora Opinion

By DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

It is a good and wise council that can stand on the merits of its transactions. A municipal council is subject to constant criticism. If it invests funds for improvements there are the voters who always ask "whose money do those men think they are spending?" If it doesn't contract for necessary improvement others invariably howl "What are we paying taxes for?" This year's council can be credited with a report of achievement worthy of considerable praise and little criticism.

Heading the list is, of course, the high school at present under construction. Many have shuddered at the by-law which was necessary to raise the funds for this building. When it is considered that Aurora's share of the debt of $600,000 is only 16 percent and that the fact Aurora is a high school area and the town itself is bound to benefit by having the school within its town limits, our share is well within reason.

There are still items such as the architect's fees which are a little hard to swallow, but until the Ontario department of education draws up plans that can be adapted to any town and not necessitate separate fees for each new building, the ten percent payable to the architect will have to be taken graciously as a necessary expenditure.

Next on the list is the improvement in the tannery odor. Councillors Glass and Davies, speaking at the nomination meeting, agreed with the mayor that the nuisance is less irritating. However, Councillor Davies said, "Let us not be lulled into a false sense of security. This condition is going to cost you money eventually. You might as well be prepared for the necessity of an addition to our disposal plant, or act in co-operation with the Collis Leather Co. in having a plant built on its property for disposal purposes."

Aurora's library has been renovated. Instead of being antiquated and of little credit to the town it is now bright, cheerful and well lighted. The new heating unit, an expenditure which was not in the budget, is now an accomplished fact. Aurora has a building inspector appointed by the 1950 council, a municipal employees' retirement pension plan and a new fire truck on order for delivery as soon as possible. This is an impressive list of accomplishments.

BAPTIZED ON NOVEMBER 19
John Neil Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hamilton, was baptized on Sunday, Nov. 19, in Trinity United church. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hamilton and children, Ian and Jill, and Miss Jean Hamilton, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall attended the service, after which they visited Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton.

TO END TANNERY ODOR

Larger Sewage Disposal Plant Said Major Election Issue

"The 1951 council in Aurora will have to decide whether it really wants to completely rid Aurora of the odor nuisance and encourage municipal growth, or whether it will, like its predecessors, shelve the matter."

This is the contention of S. G. Hoffman, chairman of the sanitation committee which the Aurora council set up last year following strong agitation from the citizens.

"Collis Leather has spent $45,000 in new methods of waste disposal and everyone will agree that the odor has been greatly reduced," he said. "The committee was able to work with the

OAK RIDGES NEWS

Badly Need Protection Marshall Tells Ridges

"Oak Ridges area is badly in need of fire protection," the head of the Ontario fire marshall's department told the Lions club at a meeting held November 23. Fire protection is a problem presently uppermost in the mind of every citizen of Oak Ridges, Lake Wilcox and surrounding territory. Oak Ridges Lions club, Ratepayers' Association and citizens seek an answer to some form of fire protection.

The use of small fire fighting equipment was demonstrated and a number of films on the use of heavier equipment, types of fire hazards, methods of handling and extinguishing fires and the necessity of public education used by the department across the province were shown.

To acquaint children and ratepayers with these matters a set of fire prevention and similar views will be given at Oak Ridges school by the fire marshall's department at an afternoon session followed by similar program in the evening for adults. Arrangements are being made by the Lions club.

Stop Light A "Must"
The provincial minister of highway and Major Alex. MacKenzie, M.P.P., have been invited to attend a mass meeting of ratepayers of Union S. S. 1 on December 12 to hear first hand reasons why a stop light at Oak Ridges school crossing is needed for the safety of nearly three-quarters of the school population using highway 11 to and from school.

A volunteer committee headed by W. Arland, which was recently formed within the Home and School Association and representing community groups, is launching a campaign to obtain signatures for a petition from ratepayers requesting the highway department's immediate action in establishing a stop light safety system. A house-to-house canvass will be carried out to obtain signatures. Leaflets describing the purpose of the public meeting will be distributed to homes.

A fair exchange, says Mrs. William Ashby, Wildwood Ave., Lake Wilcox, who will give you and yours a profession "facial" in exchange for a donation of canned goods for the Christmas baskets. On Wednesday, Dec. 6, from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m., Mrs. Ashby will put her profession into action for the good of the community, whose Christmas spirit is being taken care of by a fund sponsored by Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Assoc. At No. 12 Wildwood, Mrs. Ashby can do a facial every half hour, by-passed with a tiny breathing space.

Home and School, Dec. 18
Art and music will feature the Home and School meeting, moved forward next month to Dec. 18, under the convenship of Mrs. Stephany. The younger children are likely to present musical selections as their contribution. Miss Anne Dumbleton, Woodbridge, music supervisor for the school, is in charge of training since last September. It is expected the senior grades will demonstrate art forms.

Stress Need For New Blood In Horticultural Society

About 60 members of the Newmarket Horticultural Society gathered at Trinity United church on Wednesday, Nov. 22, for the second annual pot luck supper. Convened by Mrs. Joseph Dales, it proved to be a successful affair with everyone present enjoying the friendly and informal atmosphere of the supper.

Arnold A. Reinke, president, presided at the head table and welcomed the members. He introduced the guest speaker, Ernest Kohler, who addressed the open meeting following the supper.

Mr. Reinke praised Mrs. Anton Czernick and her juvenile committee for its fine program completed this year. He introduced Grant Morton, son of Mrs. Blanche Morton, local winner in the society sponsored wild flower conservation essay contest. Mrs. Czernick presented Grant with a copy of "American Wild Birds"—the prize offered by the Ontario

Guide Divisional Council

The York Divisional Council of Girl Guides will be held Monday, Dec. 4, at Richmond Hill. Miss Marilyn Hawman attended a meeting of Eglinton Hunt Club, Pony Division on Tuesday afternoon to assist other senior members of the Pony Club in drawing up a program of classes and arrange for the date of the Junior Horse Show held during Christmas season.

Bobby Hanna, young son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanna, is able to walk about unaided. He suffered serious hip and head injuries a few months ago when a tractor moved over him. On Nov. 25, after an examination of his present condition by the doctors of the Hospital for Sick Children, where he was so long confined, his mother has confidence for complete recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Drinkle, Oshawa, were guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Wm. Hanna over a recent weekend. With their mother, Mrs. F. Reinke, they made frequent visits to the Hanna home to see little Bobby.

Mr. S. Patterson of Lake Wilcox, with his wife and three daughters, has taken an apartment in the home of Mrs. Arthur Wellesley at King. Mr. Patterson is a building contractor.

Mrs. Sue Mosley, secretary-stenographer for Mr. J. J. Wall, lumber and merchant at Oak Ridges, has been confined to her Lake Wilcox home this week with an attack of the flu.

Mrs. F. A. Legge Passes
Mrs. Frank A. Legge, the former Elizabeth Palmer, died on Wednesday, Nov. 22, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Davis, 12 Ormsby Crescent, Toronto. The funeral service was held from St. John's Anglican church, Oak Ridges, the following Friday, conducted by the rector, Rev. D. C. H. Michell, assisted by Rev. W. F. Wrixon of Richmond Hill, a former incumbent of the parish. Interment was made in St. John's cemetery.

A resident of the district for many years, Mrs. Legge's passing brought sorrow to a wide district of friends and relatives. With her husband, she was closely associated with the work of St. John's church where her untiring service was manifested through the years. Mrs. Legge was a charter member of the Woman's Auxiliary and participated keenly in the recent 50th anniversary of the organization. She was vice president of the W.A. for a lengthy period.

Besides her husband and daughter, Mrs. Legge is survived by a son, Homer Legge of Toronto.

Ratepayers To Meet
An important meeting of Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Association will be held next Monday, Dec. 4, at Oak Ridges school at 8 p.m. Mr. E. L. McCarron, the president will be chairman. The membership is urged to attend.

Captain F. Taylor, director of the Canadian Army, will preach at St. John's Anglican church, Oak Ridges, on Sunday, Dec. 3 at the regular hour of 11.15 in

Mr. Hoffman pointed out that the present plant is already too small for Aurora's needs and will have to be enlarged anyway if the town is to continue to grow. "It is in the interest of the town that this work be undertaken by the new council, and it is in the interests of the citizens that they elect the kind of council which will do the job."

As long as Aurora must put up with the odor, its growth will be slowed, industries will pass it by, and land values will be lowered, he said. In addition, there remains the constant threat of civil action with resulting bad publicity.

"Collis Leather has done its part, and now it is up to the town," he said. He stressed that an enlarged sewage plant was not required simply for Collis. "The fact is that we must have it anyway, for Aurora," he said.

He was anxious to point out that the sanitation committee was still quite active, as indicated by results so far, but what was needed now was a council which would complete the job.

"We must lick this odor problem if Aurora is to prosper," he said. "We know what is to be done. We know we would have to do it anyway. This is our chance to elect the council which will finish the job of ridding Aurora of odors."

KESWICK

Mrs. Amy Kettel and Mrs. E. VanNorman attended the funeral in Queensville Monday, Nov. 27, of Mr. Wilkinson, a former resident of Keswick.

The Christian church Mission Society held its monthly meeting Friday evening, Nov. 24. In spite of the weather there was a good turnout and a splendid meeting followed by the special hour with lunch. Mrs. Wilder contributed two fine readings and a photograph contest added to the fun.

Baby Serrick and Miss Nancy Serrick have been on the sick list but are improving.

Mrs. Ella Wilder left this week for Toronto to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Wilson. There's a real old fashioned North Gwillimbury election fight on for reeve and deputy-reeve. Be sure to vote!

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hurst, whose marriage took place Saturday, Nov. 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pollard, Keswick, with Rev. Serrick officiating. Mrs. Hurst was the former Miss Iva Fallowdown, Sunderland.

Mrs. Joe Irwin, Queensville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Orville King a few days last week.

Margaret Hill, Newmarket, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boe, Toronto, visited Mr. Boe's sister, Mrs. I. Waldon, and Mr. Waldon on Sunday.

The home of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, Yonge St. was the scene of activity on Nov. 22 when Kingcrafts Guild, an organization recently organized in King Township for the development of handicrafts, met with 37 attending. An active member of the Guild, Mrs. Beatty was unable to be present due to the illness of her husband who underwent a surgical operation in a Toronto hospital on the morning of Nov. 22. Mrs. Wilfred Denton and the president, Lady Flavell acted as co-hostesses in receiving members and visitors.

Plan To Return Main St. To Town After Repairs

The Toronto and York Road Commission plans to resurface Main St. and then turn over the maintenance of the street to Newmarket. "I have been pushing this undertaking against the possibility of amalgamation which might prevent the job from ever being done," said Fred A. Lundy, member of the commission.

Mr. Lundy has been appointed to another five-year term on the commission. He is a former long-time reeve of Newmarket and one-time warden of York county council.

Mr. Lundy said that he had been making strong representations to the commission on behalf of the north end of the county. Some evidence of success in this, he said, can be found in the paving of Davis Dr. and in the straightening of the third concession where it passes under the railway at Vandonr. "That job will be finished in another two or three weeks," he commented.

Construction Progressing On High School Wings At Newmarket, Sutton

The foundation for the new vocational wing at Newmarket high school is completed. Bricklayers are starting this week and the steel for the structure is due to arrive. Another new wing which is going on the Sutton high school is progressing rapidly. The walls were over six feet high last week.

The Newmarket-Sutton high school board, meeting at Newmarket high school last week, approved of an oil heating system in the Sutton school. Architects' plans called for a coal burning unit which was to be installed along with the new wing but Sutton members indicated that an oil unit would be more economical under the circumstances. The location of the heating plant would require added caretaking service if coal were burned and members pointed out that the oil would save money over a long period of time.

Al packs a hard right hand shot and carries 180 lbs. on his 5 ft. 9 inch frame.

STATESMEN CONFER

Canada's "Mike" Pearson, minister for external affairs, and the United States secretary of state, Dean Acheson, are snapped during an informal conversation at the United Nations at Lake Success.

Mr. Acheson said yesterday that the Chinese communist aggression in North Korea had created a situation of unparalleled danger, and he called upon the Chinese to withdraw.

The United States would, he said, fight if they must to maintain their institutions. Canada's contribution to the U.N. forces in Korea sailed this week but it is not expected that they will get into the fighting for some time yet because of further training.

KING GIRL WED AT MANSE SATURDAY

On Saturday afternoon, the marriage of Doreen Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Noble, King, to Rowland Winter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Winter, Barrie, was solemnized by Rev. Martin Jenkinson at the United church manse.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a claret wine suit, ice blue satin cloche hat, navy accessories and corsage of tiny blue 'mums and pink carnations. Her attendant, Mrs. Grace Shrimpton, a sister, wore a navy gabardine pin-stripe suit, winter white felt hat, navy and white accessories and corsage of pink carnation petals and blue pom pom 'mums. The groom was supported by his brother, Ivor, Barrie.

For the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Noble chose navy printed dress, black hat and accessories and corsage of pink carnations centred with a mauve 'mum. Mrs. Ivor Winter wore a grey check suit, black velvet hat and corsage of red roses.

After a short honeymoon trip the couple will reside in Maple. Pink and white chrysanthemums decorated the reception rooms where the dining table was centred with 'mums and pink tapers, a white bell and pink streamers. Serving the buffet luncheon were Mrs. Archie Campbell, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Ewart Patton. A toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. Jenkinson.

Among the guests were the bride's sister, Mrs. Audrey Hinds, Lakeview, and Miss Connie Winter, Barrie, the groom's sister.

WINTER UNABLE TO SPOIL BAZAAR

Old man winter failed to co-operate with the members of the Evangeline Auxiliary, Trinity United church, Newmarket, when they held their annual tea and Christmas bazaar. However, despite his best efforts, he was unable to dampen their enthusiasm. The affair was well attended.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Henry Cotton and Mrs. Earl Walton, president of the group. General convenor was Mrs. Elman Campbell.

Carrying out the Christmas theme, each booth had a large centerpiece decorated with colored ornaments and gay ribbon bows. The small tea tables were centred with miniature Christmas trees flanked by tiny reindeer. An outstanding feature of the bazaar was the delicatessen table, where all types of supper dishes were offered for sale. The supervised nursery for the tiny tots was a busy spot. The many booths carried a wide assortment of handicrafts, home baking and candy.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

TWO BAZAARS

"I wonder when we stopped saying 'tea and bake sale' and started calling these interesting events 'bazaars'?"

I think the first time I went to a bazaar I was disappointed. All my ideas of these interesting affairs were gathered from reading the "Arabian Nights" and of course I envisioned Persian carpets—I even dreamed there might be a flying one, and also rich silks and glittering jewellery!

However the dreams of youth must give place to the realities of the present, so now I am content with less grandeur but more practical articles, and I'd like to say a word about two at which I had the pleasure of assisting.

Our Bogartown Institute this year, finding homes too small for their display of goods, hid them to the Scout hall in Newmarket and there, let their work speak for them.

In place of the Persian carpets and silk drapes of my dreams, there were quilts and blankets almost as colorful and most certainly the quilts were the work of artists in their line. In three ways, the Institute bazaar and the Evangeline Evening Auxilliary of the United church bazaar, bore a strong resemblance to one another—in their display of aprons, candy and home baking.

At both bazaars aprons were in great demand—they seem to be a MUST, whether they be strictly useful, very ornamental or a mixture of both. Some one always wants them, and at the church bazaar we ran short.

The bake tables at both bazaars were exceedingly popular, for who doesn't love to gaze upon luscious cakes—high haughty cakes with mouth watering frosting, little cakes looking just ready for the table and pies and tarts that remind you that your larder is low and here is a way to remedy that.

Candy peeped temptingly out of boxes and at the E.E.A., out of lovely little baskets of various colors. But whether box or basket or bag tempted you the contents were all delicious.

Bogartown had a table where vegetables, cottage cheese, cider and jams were sold, and it was cleared or nearly so. Opposite this, the Evangeline Auxilliary had a delicatessen table, where the most intriguing and toothsome dainties were displayed—a beautifully shaped fish with a pimento olive eye and a cute tail. There were jellied salads and salads not jellied, baked apples and many other delicacies. It was an attractive table. There were two dollies at the E.E.A. and we wished they had been multiplied and there was a cute yellow wool dog with a pert black nose and black eyes. While at the Bogartown table there were dolls' aprons which disappeared like magic. Dolls' dresses and hats and coats, would, I am sure, go just as quickly. House slippers, booties, mittens, a lovely sweater, tea cosy, pillow slips, bibs and plants—all were there.

Pointing out that there are at present 40 United Nations Associations scattered in all parts of the world, Miss Bowman outlined some of the specialized work undertaken by these organizations. Among these were the distribution of food and seed to districts in Europe and the far east where both were practically non-existent.

"Communism thrives on hunger," she said. "The United Nations Association, which press reports have sometimes represented as a negative sort of thing, can be accredited with good, sound accomplishment. It is the only vehicle by which we can hope to gain lasting peace."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Archie Cousins who emphasized the pride the community felt in having one of its own young women achieve the honor of representing this country in a world gathering. A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. O. D. Hess.

The meeting, held at Gray Stones, celebrated the first anniversary of the club. The year's activities were reviewed by Mrs. Dorothy Baker, past president, during the serving of refreshments when the new president, Miss Margaret Hearn, cut the huge birthday cake topped by a single candle. During the business session plans were made for the Christmas dinner to be held in Snowball United church Wednesday, Dec. 13, under the convensorship of Miss Margery Andrews.

and contritely say "mea culpa" and retire.
Bazaars have a place in our social economy—they are money makers and they can, if the right spirit rules, promote a real feeling of friendship among those who meet there. Bogartown bazaar was opened by Mrs. Baycroft of Gormley, our district president. Next week—Following the Indian Trail).

Haskett's
HASH
BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor
Why in thunder more fans don't take in the town league struggles we'll never guess. Storm signals were hoisted higher than a kite in the Town-Tannery smash and grab raid Monday.

Towners protected an early lead and first place for a 6-5 win. Coach Harry Thom's Tanners battled with might and main (two good guys to have on anybody's side) resorting to hocking the netminder out in dying moments but the equalizer wasn't to be had. Tempers flared. One Tannery batter was all for whacking referee Bob Peters and the time keeper had his ears pinned away back for halting the onward march of the second hand.
Take it easy—the high-salaried timekeeper deserves all the punishment coming to him. But for heaven's sake, lay off the refereeing department. When those gentlemen (?) require a body-guard, time the league drew a bead on someone and let fire. Lay down a suspension or two and make it stick—that's the sure way to halt those shenanigans.
Our grapevine tuned to pick up the tempo with the simon-pures even hears of such things as protests. The other teams, we're told, are out after the town seals. Appears, so they say, Towners drew help from the player pool under false pretenses. If so would help balance the league if new town hired hands were spread to the other clubs. That, gentlemen, we're told by those in the know, is what makes for a good circuit.
From our briefing you'll get the idea the Christmas spirit hasn't hit the town leaguers. Far from it. They're levelling off in strength and at each other. Now our true amateur hockey men aren't going to ask Santa for their two front teeth—though somebody's going to need 'em way matters are progressing. No, they would just like to see a few more pews filled by the fans. Why not make that trip to the arena next Monday to prove your Underwood tick tack toe man isn't handing you a line of guff. Honest, the biggest two bits worth of hockey you'll ever see at present rates.
No more surmising. It's official now. Spits in the Big Seven—the big time—O.H.A. group. A large and exciting winter ahead from December 7 to February 15. Spits meet up with such ice going platoons as Markham "Millionaires", Stouffville "Clippers", Alliston-Toronto "Meteors", and Owen Sound, all with a senior B rating. Fact is one of them might just be next Allan Cup holders under present set-up of the

DAVIS, TOWN SLUG IT OUT IN TIGHT GAME
Storm warnings were posted Monday in Newmarket Town League action. Davis "Tanners" and Town "Merchants" battled every inch of the way with the Towners protecting an early lead to sneak home 6-5 winners. In the early game Office Specialty passing out flanked Hoffman "Ironmen" 5-1.
The Merchies looked to have the "game of the night" sewed up, vaulting into a 4-1 lead at the end of two rugged periods with "Murph" Jelley, Ken Russell, "Shorty" Wrightman and Ivan Gibson stoking the clerks' fire. Norm Lighthouse beat Bill Ingram for the Tannery marker. Then came the last 20 minutes. Bruce Townsley pulled the leather makers up a notch on a solo goal. "Murph" Jelley and Harold Gwyn shoved the Towners in a 6-3 advantage as they took a new lease on life. From there on it was a Tannery show. Penny Townsley took a pass from Jack Groves, and Groves via Bruce Townsley, and Townsley on a solo made it 6-5. That came at 18:12 with Harry Thom's hocking his netminder out in the dying moments. There were those who said the Tanners tied it—but referee Bob Peters ruled otherwise.
In the opener Barney Pearson figured in three of five Specialty goals as they measured Hoffman 5-1. Barney sniped for two and drew a helper ticket on a third. Harvey Heacock and Grant Crowder pitched in other two Specialty markers. Len Cook contributed two assisting marks. Bob Benville was johnny-on-the-spot to sink a pass out from Jack Duncan to lay Tod Mosier's shut-out flat for the lone Hoffman counter. In contrast to the late game when penalty parade was heavy only one "bad man" was sentenced.

Call Organization Meet For Queensville Rink
Bill Burkholder, who has been patrolling the ice lanes here, there and just about everywhere, was appointed hockey convener for activities at the Queensville arena last Friday. Bill intends to get right down to business and sends out the call for everyone interested in hockey to be at the Queensville rink on Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, at 8 p.m. "Burk" would like to see a representative from every school in the district so that a school league can be formed. The call includes those interested in forming a junior hockey league and representatives from all teams interested in the Lake Simcoe Hockey League.

Penalties, Condition Count Against Indians
Aurora "Indians" found Thursday they hadn't picked up enough hockey education to cope with the brand as supplied by the University of Toronto seniors, better known as Varsity "Blues". Harvey Gibney's braves absorbed a 10-4 licking for loss number one of the season.
For one period, the Indians matched the skating strides of the Collegians and then better condition took its toll. Varsity out-scoring the home forces by a 4-2 margin in last two periods. One thing more than anything else that upset the intended Indian scalping party were penalties. Aurora got 'em and Varsity struck hard and fast with Aurorans in the sin-bin.
Ray Fox, Jimmy O'Hearn, Murray Brandon and Bill Muddell were the Aurora marksmen.

Chapman Heads Slate In Aurora Town Loop
Cliff Chapman was named president of the Aurora town hockey league last week. Jim Murray was elected secretary-treasurer. An executive board of eight members, two from each team, was named: Bob Harman, Pete Harman (Collis), Don Holman, Norm Egan (Merchants), "Mickey" Sutton, Frank Young (Ditchdiggers), Bill Hammond, Bob Stephenson (Victory Flyers).
Victory Flyers (Whitchurch Junior Farmers) entered last week to complete the four-team circuit.
The league plans to play on Thursday and Monday evenings from 6.30 to 7.30 p.m. It's Ditchdiggers vs. Collis tonight and Victory Flyers battle Merchants Monday.
AURORA O.M.H.A. ENTRIES
Aurora will have two teams in the O.M.H.A. competition, reports assistant recreation director Bill Muddell. Teams entered at the recent O.M.H.A. convention held in Toronto were midget and bantam. Bill Muddell will coach both teams and advises he is looking for some early exhibition games for his teams. Anybody interested?

LAKE SIMCOE HOCKEY
Lake Simcoe Hockey League will hold its organization meeting at the Queensville arena on Wednesday, Dec. 6. It is expected that an executive for the coming year will be elected. All teams interested in playing in the league this season are asked to have a delegate on hand. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Teams in the league last winter were Queensville, Mount Albert, Vancor, Pine Orchard and Keswick.

AURORA TOWN LEAGUE OPENS WITH SUCCESS

Everybody connected with the newly organized Aurora town league was happy about the big coming out party held over the past week. It was a success in every way. The first pair indicate there'll be some rip-roaring games ahead before a champ is declared.
In the curtain raiser Collis "Tanners" didn't display any town hospitality, knocking off the visiting puck-chasers from out Vandorf way, henceforth known as Victory Flyers, by a 6-4 margin. Ray White and Gord Smith with a pair each and Harry Sutton and Art White with singles were the Tannery goal-getters. For the Victory Flyers, who indicate they'll live up to both ends of their moniker next time out, that is fly and win, Dave Richardson and Clem Ellis had their shooting irons on the target for a pair of scoring points each.
In the Monday tilt, Merchants had to use every trick in the deck to out-shuffle and out-hustle the Ditchdiggers to take down a 4-3 win. Merchants' scoring split four ways, Doug Case, Don Holman, Norm Egan and Al Hussey doing the honors. Earl MacDonald, "Shorty" Sutton and "Red" Dawson handled the Ditchdiggers' scoring thrusters. Tonight, Thursday, Ditchdiggers vs. Collis; Monday, Victory Flyers vs. Merchants.
Ditchdiggers: H. McBain, M. Sutton, E. MacDonald, J. Aitchison, H. Stephenson, S. Sutton, A. Smith, R. Dawson.
Merchants: J. Murray, A. Hussey, B. Sutton, C. Chapman, D. Fisher, D. Case, N. Egan, D. Holman, E. Summers, W. Patrick.

Jing Groves To Coach Newmarket Juveniles
Bohmer "Jing" Groves has accepted the coaching job with Newmarket juvenile O.M.H.A. club, it was announced Friday. The team took to the ice for the first time Friday evening and were at their early conditioning exercises again Sunday. The Friday session brought out 27 trainees.
As yet the executive hasn't been appointed but three members, it is expected, will come from the present junior C Hoffman "Rocket" executive while three other appointments are to be made. The team will practice Friday from 6 to 7 p.m. Jim Walker, who has been instrumental in starting the club away, advises everyone of juvenile age from Newmarket and district will find the welcome mat out for them Friday.

Four-Team Trolley Loop Opens in Town Friday
The Trolley League will operate this season as a four-team circuit. Teams entered are Aurora "Indians", Woodbridge, Daves-Danforth "Combines" and Navy club. Both Alliston and Brooklin, mentioned as possibilities to round out a six-team set-up, have dropped their O.H.A. plans for this season, it was learned this week.
Daves-Danforth, rated as a senior B club, has lined up home ice at Unionville as soon as the artificial ice plant there is completed about mid-December. Navy club has booked Newmarket as "home" until natural ice is available at Keswick. Navy will open its home season here tomorrow, Friday evening. Because of the withdrawal of Brooklin, Daves-Danforth will provide the opposition for Navy.
Trolley league delegates will meet this week in Aurora to draft a schedule and elect officers.

Al Shewchuk's low, mean drive from inside the blue-line actually won the game. It broke up a nine-all deadlock late in the third period. Stan Gibbons set the stage by fishing the biscuit out of the corner and laying it on Shewchuk's shooting iron.

Those fans who like their hockey generously seasoned with goals were overjoyed at last Thursday's Spitfire-Gravenhurst "Indian" tilt. The red light never got a better work-out. Nineteen goals winged into the cages. Spits propelled ten of these into the Gravenhurst cage while the visitors lifted nine past Joe Tunney.

Jim "Skip" Taylor was the high voltage scorer with three, Al Shewchuk had two, his game winning counter and the Spits' first in the opening round. "Fink" Tunstead, Denny Labine, "Mutt" Collings out for the first time, Myles McInnis and Ken Thoms pecked away for singletons.

Fred Petsura, ex-Oshawa General, had six scoring points, three goals, three helpers, but had to work overtime to beat his wing-mate Bernie Jones with two tallies and three assisting marks.

Legion, last year's champs, were the only four-point winners in last week's Town League. They scalped the Turkey Catchers for a tie for second place with Combines with 22. Metal Workers set the pace with 24 points. Meteors, Clover Kickers, Denne's and Dixon's annexed three points each. Dixon's left the cellar with its three-pointer over Newmarket Dairy which slipped into the basement all by its lonesome. Four bowlers cracked 700. Geo. Frizell leading with 733 (235-272-206). Harold Craddock made it close with 731 (243-248-240). Stan Flicker 721 and Del Pemberton 720 were next in line. Other good marks fell to Frank Courtney 694, Hank VandenBergh 693, Alvin McKnight 686, Bob Houston 682, Ed Gibson 681, Les McKnight 677, Orval Hisey 676 and Cyril Keats 676. Dave Weddell held high single with 329.

Tunney's pin crew yanked another 7 points from Allen's gang last week to stretch their first place margin. Cullen downed Townsley 5-2. Tannery league standing is Tunney 58, Townsley 44, Allen 35, Cullen 33. Bud Pettit was all alone in the high scoring brackets with a 722 (236-228-258). Closest competition miles back came from Ned Tansley 598, and Geo. Carr 596.

Hazel Benmiz's 577 (273-161-143) was the pay-off bowling with the Thursday night ladies. Other consistent shot-makers were Betty VanZant 558, Edna McGrath 547, Bessie Wonch 527, Olive Hughson 510, Aileen McBride 509, Faye Struthers 501.

Ran-offs and Rooksters are sharing first place in the V.L.A. loop with 22 points each. Tail-Enders trail with 12 marks. Marian Pickering posted a 319 double and 176 single to pace the ladies' section last week. Barbara Thompson 173 single and Joan Fairry 301 double gained runner-up recognition. Lou Tompkins pounded out a 400 double and Bill Tulloch recorded a 229 single to spark the men's division.

Four ladies beat 500 in the Bowls league operating at Brownie's North End Alleys last Wednesday. Mary Fish 565, V. Dales 538, Emma Broadbent 514 and Edna McGrath 500.

Press Shop won a 5-2 decision over Sheet Metal, Machine Shop piloted its way to a 4-3 win over Office in last week's Hoffman action. League standing reads Press Shop 33, Sheet Metal 31, Vornone 29, Office 29, Machine Shop 26. Bob Murray was the "big gun" in the individual recordings with a 648. Bob Benville and Frank VandenBergh with 594 each tied for second.

Three sweeps recorded in Monday action of the ladies' league. Spark Plugs, Wizards and Femmes shut out Feeps, Dubs and Cubs respectively. League standing is Wizards 23, Cubs 22½, Femmes 20, Spark Plugs 16, Feeps 14, Dubs 12½. Emma Broadbent was high scorer Monday with a 646 (158-238-250). Other high three game marks were set by Phil McInnis and Mary Osborne 581 each, Mimi Giovannelli 578, Claire Pollock 553, Nora Gibney 553, Hester Clark 541, Hazel Bowser 541, Velma Sloan 535.

Don Burch highlighted last week's action in the Office Specialty officers' league skyrocketing over par with a 774 three-game score. A middle game of 351 plus 190 and 233 turned the trick. That 351 was high for the year at the North End Alleys. Ken Giles had 616 and Stew Parks 611 beat the 600 mark. Roy Bennett's team is league leader with Bert Seldon's a whisker behind.

OVERTIME WIN PUTS 'BERG ON LEAGUE TOP

Fans who faced the storm Friday for a peek at the King-Vaughan league double-header attraction received full value for their loyal support. The teams staged a pair of thrilling overtime duels. In the opener the Hastings - Moody Schombergers nosed out a 4-3 win over Kettleby while Nobleton and Kleinburg shared their take home pointage with 2-2 tie.

Henry Hollingshead earned the keys to the village, winging in on the Kettleby cage with a pass set on his stick by Cliff Graham for the tie breaker and game winning marker for the Bergers. Earlier in regulation time Murray Edwards, Bruce Graham and "Bud" Brown fired the Schomberg tallies. Ken Ham, John Wist and Norm Edgar were the Kettleby marksmen. The win shot Schomberg into undisputed possession of first place in the league while dropping Bill Muirhead's men further into the basement. Bill Broadbent came up with a solid shot-blocking display in the Schomberg twinery.

Next Friday Schomberg and Kleinburg clash in the opener while Kettleby will endeavor to hit the win column at the expense of Nobleton.

Pinheads are leaders in the Thursday night ladies' league with 12 points, Alley Cats have nine, Pinafores seven. Florence Callaghan topped the three game scorers with 595 (242-184-169). Laura Whitfield 583 including high single of 259 and Marg Teasdale 541.

Rocket Juniors Lose 6-5 To Radio Appliances

Junior hockey that so many fans have been clamoring for returned to the Hub Tuesday, exhibition variety that is. For a period and a half the Hoffman "Rockets" had fire power. They flashed a stinging attack that manufactured a 5-1 margin over Radio Appliances, a junior B club from Toronto.

Then they lost contact with prosperity - the picture changed completely as Rocket fire-power fizzed and died. The Radio crew hogged the scoring spotlight the rest of the route and sneaked out with a 6-5 victory over our junior hopefuls.

Keith Collings, Bob Veale, Murray McDonald, John Gasko bagged the first period counters as Rockets went ahead 4-1. Dave Couch completed the scoring run for the faltering Rockets early in the second period.

Hank Ainley was the visitors' ace with two goals. Newmarket: Goal, H. Peterson; defense, I. Firth, B. Groves; center, K. Collings; wings, B. Veale, M. McDonald, J. Gasko, J. Gasko, D. Couch, B. Black, D. Flegel, F. Morton, S. Beattie, B. Hanna, A. Martin, R. Coveney, D. Shannon, J. Kamplin, W. McLaughlin.

N.H.L. Kid Hockey Teams To Be Chosen Friday

Plans for the formation of a town minor National Hockey League are progressing well is the latest report. At a meeting of the committee Friday it was indicated four sets of sweaters had been donated, two more are needed to fully equip the six teams. One trophy has been promised while two more are required.

Friday, Dec. 1, the managers, coaches, committee and all those interested in the N.H.L. are asked to report to the King George school at 7:30 p.m. Also of special interest is the call for all players of bantam and midget age to be at the King George school at 8 p.m. This latter invitation is a must for all prospective players as the teams will be chosen at that time.

If the decks can be cleared it is hoped that the teams will start their hockey campaign next week.

Big Seven Grouping For Newmarket Spitfires

Newmarket "Spitfires" have drawn an intermediate "A" rating and are entered in "The Big Seven" grouping of the O.H.A. The group includes Markham, Stouffville, Owen Sound and Toronto-Aliston "Meteors" all senior B teams, and Collingwood and Midland, intermediate A.

The teams will play a double schedule right through with two home and two away games with each club in the group. The Spitfires will open at home against Markham "Millionaires" on Dec. 7. First away game will be against Midland on Tuesday, Dec. 5.

The conveners meeting was held at Barrie on Nov. 26 with Manager Father T. J. McCabe, club president George Byers, Frank Johnston and arena manager Stan Smith attending to represent the Spitfires.

At the conclusion of the regular schedule the three intermediate A teams, Midland, Collingwood and Newmarket, will play a round-robin series to declare a group winner. The complete schedule will appear next week.

Bradford Lacrosse Team Plays Banquet Schedule

Last fall, if you'll recall, Bradford lacrosse club lost to Alliston in the O.H.A. intermediate C finals. Wednesday it fought the battle "turkey, cranberry sauce and all the trimmings" and won hands down, tummies filled.

Members of the team, their ladies, club officials and chief disciples were guests at a banquet in Bradford town hall with the ladies of the Bradford Women's Institute providing supper.

Reeve Allan, Charles Evans, Bill Compton, S. S. McKenzie, editor of Bradford Witness, and Geo. Haskett led a brief innings in the speech making, giving credit to the team for its wonderful showing. Speakers were introduced by Reg Wilson, M.C.

Club president Jim Webb, manager Nick Burnside, coach W. Mullins and executive member Ernie Collings thanked one and all for the support afforded the team and raised a note that next year, nothing short of the championship would suffice. Perry Stander, captain of the team, replied on behalf of the players.

Players present were Ted Bulpitt, Perry Stander, Scotty Johnston, Roy Collings, Keith Collings, Bruce Collings, Gord Compton, Geo. Jackson, Harold Gwyn, Chas. Mashinter, Bob McQuarrie.

Bears Open Season Friday At Home

Aurora Bears will officially open the O.H.A. junior B season on Friday night at Aurora as Brampton Regents, who opposed Aurora in the C group finals last year and moved higher with the Bears this season, come to town. It will be the acid test for the Cain-Wall-Tunney team and after dropping a one-sided exhibition tilt to Barrie and their first O.H.A. start to the Regents on Saturday night in Brampton, the players, coach and management are really out for this one.

Several of the lads will probably be attempting to even the score as souvenirs of Saturday's clash and it's no secret there is no love between the two clubs. Coach Cain minus the Fetch brothers, who both signed with Aurora and then failed to appear, is still seeking reinforcements and may have a new starter or two. Moe Fetch, 'tis said, is headed for the Markham Millionaires in senior B, while Lyall Petch played for Bob Lawrie's Unionville club which dropped its first two starts to St. Mike's Buzzers on Saturday and Monday. Just how this can happen after certificates are signed we don't presume to know. It's just one of those things so prevalent in the O.H.A.

Butch Keeling, ex-New York Rangers star, like Herb Cain, is making his debut as a coach this season and according to all reports he's making a good job. Keeling had a head start on Cain in the player market and affiliations and had of course nine holdovers from last season. Newcomers to the team include three ex-intermediates in the persons of Hillis of Elora and Johnstone and Bob Wilson, who were with Bucko McDonald's Sundridge Beavers. A trio from Weston has also been added. It looks like a great contest and the pews should be well filled.

We doubt if the junior management can match the official opening staged by Aurora Indians on Tuesday night. Souvenirs, organ music, figure skaters from Les Reaser's Maple Leaf Ice Revue and Bert Mayrand in full Indian regalia made for a great start, plus a sparkling performance by Harvey Gibney's warriors. History will be made so far as North

Indians Take Woodbridge 11-7 In League Opener At Home

With all the trimmings of a big league opening Aurora Indians began their campaign for intermediate B honors with a thrilling 11-7 win over Charlie Rowntree's Woodbridge senior B team on Tuesday night before 700 fans at Aurora. The customers got both wide open hockey, rugged checking and extra frills. Souvenir hats, organ music by "Rudy" at the Hammond and figure skaters from the Maple Leaf Ice Revue were extra.

Led by Chief Gray Stones prexy Bert Mayrand in full tribal regalia, the Indians' executive and players were introduced to the crowd as were the visiting players and Metro president Johnny Hines. Earl Scott, keeper of the wampum for the tribe, acted as master of ceremonies. Rev. Ken Whatmough, the club chaplain, officiated in the opening ceremony and Johnny Hines dropped the puck.

"Ozark Ike" Fox hit the score sheet first at 9:58 on a lone rush. As referee Harry Morrison got the range penalties came thick and fast and Bill Longhouse evened the count at 13:06. With the teams even Son Rowntree gave Woodbridge the lead and from there on it was hell-for-leather hockey all the way.

Woodbridge made it 3-1 as Jim Smith scored at 1:24 of the second. Harry Morrison and Bill Mundell equalled the count with two fast goals within 48 seconds. Murray Brandon gave Aurora the lead at 6:10 and Jim O'Hearn scored a picture one at 9:08. Vic Meharg, Jack Rumney scored for Aurora and Son Rowntree and Hollingshead for Woodbridge to leave it 7-5 as the period ended. Jim Smith drew a deserved roughing penalty and when he refused to report to the sin-bin was awarded a match misconduct, a tough break for the southerners.

Klinck brought Woodbridge to 7-6 at 3:50 of the third and then the roof fell in as Simmons, O'Hearn and Rumney tallied to 9-2 seconds for a great display of power hockey. Klinck and Wardell completed the scoring for each team. Both goalies Bill Mulholland and Art Briggs for Woodbridge handled plenty of rubber and played fine hockey. Mulholland kicked out 30 shots, while Briggs barred 41.

For Aurora O'Hearn, Rumney and Mandell played terrific hockey but there wasn't a weak spot on the forward line. McGhee and Meharg were the pick of the blueliners. Son Rowntree, Ron Klinck and George Wright were the pick of the visitors.

Bob Peters and Harry Morrison handled the games well, 13 penalties being doled out. Smith and McGhee getting three apiece. Aurora: goal, Mulholland, d.

SPITS MEET METEORS Newmarket intermediate followers who want to take a peek at one of the teams that will provide the Spits with opposition during the regular season will have their chance tonight. Alliston-Toronto "Meteors" will move in lock, stock and barrel for a go at the Spitfires tonight at the arena in an exhibition contest. Starting time 8:30 p.m.

Bears Lose To Regents In Rugged Contest

Herb Cain's Aurora Bears dropped their first O.H.A. start of the season at Brampton on Saturday night as Butch Keeling's Regents took a 6-3 verdict over the Bears. It was a rugged contest and the Aurora kids didn't fare too well on the breaks or refereeing.

On the night's play Brampton had a slight edge and a one-goal margin would have well indicated the play. Doug Merchant, Jack Atkinson, who played a great game at the blueline, and Gerry O'Donnell got the Aurora goals, while Grant Firth and Passmore were robbed of surefire thrusts by goalie Fink Chard. For Brampton Bob Wallace, Woodbridge, a holdover from '50, was outstanding with two goals, defenceman Dave Irons, Ross Johnston, Mac Hillis and Bob Wilson got the others for the homesters.

The two teams hook up at Aurora on Friday night and a huge crowd should be on hand as the chips will really be down as the Bears open their home stand.

SNOW BREAKS UP GAME

Old King Winter upset the appointment on Friday night as winter weather, plus a traffic jam at Thornhill, postponed the official opening of the junior O.H.A. season. North Toronto Lions were scheduled by the usual committee and O.H.A. manager Gen. Pender called the game off at 11:41. Half an hour later the Lions were on hand and insisted that the match proceed to a finish. There was considerable confusion about refunds in the game and it was a tough break for the Bears to lose a good game.

Fox and Donatelli, C. Morrison, W. O'Hearn and Rumney, subs. Donatelli and Meharg, Simmons, Brodie and Mundell, Broughton, Wardell and Brandon.

Woodbridge: goal, Briggs, d. Cook and Hollingshead; c. Rowntree; w. Smith and Castorini; subs. Statham and Hall, Klinck, Gilson and McDonald, Wright, Taylor and Longhouse.

and Markham Millionaires, has come out of retirement to join the Moneybags once more. Chuck Seath and Bill Babcock, former Aurora high all-around athletes, were co-coaches of the Thorold-Merriton football team this fall and had the satisfaction of seeing their juniors deck St. Catharines, the conference champs. It was a first time for the team and a first time for the coaching chores at football as well.

Chris Wansborough, the pride of Andy Closs' junior D team at Aurora, is a senior student at St. Andrew's College. Andy announces that Reeve Asa Cook has provided a dandy travelling trunk for the team. Mr. Cook has a keen interest in the season with son Hobs Cook being a member. Dick McDougall, who starred on the defence for Varsity Blues the other night, is a new resident of Aurora. Too bad the Indians can't get his release.

Cliff Harman, brother of Charlie "Kid" Harman and himself an Aurora athlete of yesteryear, has been nominated for alderman once again in Oshawa. As usual, "Dickie" will be a cinch for his 21st term in that office, a record probably unequalled in Ontario municipal politics. Mac Clement was a member of the Scottish all-star team which met the English all-stars this week in a big overseas fixture. The Richmond Hill boy is rated as just about tops on the Scottish blue-line.

Cliff Chapman expects to have his Aurora Merchants, who won their first start, decked out in classy new sweaters. A special appeal is being made to the Main St. merchants to each donate a sweater. Let's see now, that comes under the heading of advertising for the fiscal year! Tim Saul, known for his exploits in softball and tennis and badminton, is the president of the Richmond Hill bantam hockey club. Five teams will play in the Hill league with some mighty fine coaches in charge, namely Dick Mills, Tubby Barrow, Wick Mills, Jack Hollowell, Saul and Bud Jones. An attempt is finally being made to organize hockey for the older boys at the Hill as well.

Advertising
That Pays

By HOWARD MORTON

Have been thinking lately of the power of advertising and of what material benefit it may be to a person with money to spend for merchandise or services.

Have you ever considered the purchase of some commodity and debated the wisdom of buying the well advertised article?

Did you ever reason that a much advertised product was more expensive because of that advertising and decide that a product which was almost entirely unsupported by advertising would be equally as acceptable and yet require the outlay of much less money?

Almost without exception, the answer is found to be that the most reputable, desirable and economical merchandise is that which is supported by strong advertising. In fact many services and commodities are now within the reach of our purchasing power simply because advertising and aggressive salesmanship made their distribution more economical.

In our own firm we use many forms of advertising and would be unable to actually say that any specific advertising medium was responsible for certain increases in our operation.

However we can say that from a plant opened December 1935, containing only two service bays in Mount Albert and staffed by Bill, Charley and I, we now offer the services of seven licensed mechanics, two apprentices, and six other personnel.

Of course our advertising is in many forms, the written word, calendars, hand-out articles, broad policy adjustments, the valued word of mouth of our satisfied customers and our close association in merchandising nationally known products.

Personally I concluded a long time ago that our growth was founded and promoted on advertising and also that our customers do get a better deal at our establishments because of our advertising campaigns.

Scout Troop Organized

A Boy Scout troop was organized Nov. 22 at a meeting of parents and boys in the basement of All Saints Anglican church, sponsors, when Mr. R. J. Mawson, leader of a special scout organization in Toronto, spoke on the aims and principles of the organization. Mr. Mawson has agreed to assist here by attending two meetings a month until spring when the work will be taken over by local leaders. Eleven boys and ten parents were present.

Enrolment will be held in the church basement, the regular quarters, on Thursday evening, Dec. 7. It is expected a number of boys will be interested in joining. Group committee is J. L. Grew, chairman, A. E. Jarvis, Donald Findlay and B. J. Langdon. As backers of the troop, the committee takes an active part with scouts, meeting monthly with them, assisting with their problems and controlling finances. The group assists in an advisory capacity.

A ladies' auxiliary was formed with Mrs. A. J. Gordon; vice pres., Mrs. Jack Walker; sec.-treas., Mrs. J. L. Grew. This group comprises mothers of scouts and cubs who look after raising funds for equipment, take part in sewing of scarves, etc., assist in examination work for proficiency badges and supply refreshments for any occasion required. The L.A. has an important part to play in support of the scout troop and cub pack. Mrs. Mary Hood, cub leader with her assistants, Jack Hambly and Mrs. Grace Smith, have worked untiringly to make the cub group one of the most highly regarded in York Central District. Likewise their energies are devoted toward the development of a scout troop for King and district.

Surprise Birthday Party

The family of Mrs. Edwin Robson surprised her on November 20 when 43 gathered at the home to offer congratulations and gifts in honor of her birthday. Assisting with the opening of presents was Mrs. Elmer Hadwen of Maple, whose birthday fell on the same day. All of Mr. and Mrs. Robson's children were present with the exception of Earl who was still in St. Joseph's hospital, Toronto. Ten grandchildren joined the party. Euchre was played; old time music by Calvin Mitchell, Doris and Albert Mitchell followed by refreshments.

Mr. Peter Clark attended the funeral of his nephew, Peter Clark Weir, Toronto, who passed away at Sunnybrook hospital on November 20. The service was held at an Orillia funeral home with interment in St. Andrew's cemetery there. A veteran of the first world war, Mr. Weir's sons, Russell and Peter of Toronto are overseas veterans of the second world war.

Mr. Ivel Wood of Fleetwood Motors is in York County hospital, Newmarket, being treated for a severe case of pneumonia. He entered hospital on November 22.

Bazaar Nets Profit

Despite very unfavorable weather on November 25, Laskay W.I. bazaar operated with success. Total receipts were $195, which included funds produced by a "travelling apron", and several draws. The apron brought in nearly $20, and the lucky draws, more than $42. The event was declared officially open by Miss Winnifred Boys, W.I. president. Miss Diana Dean played violin solos accompanied by her mother. The left-over aprons will be offered for sale at W.I. euchre on December 1 in Laskay hall.

From a refreshment booth at the N. D. McMurchy sale on November 23, St. Andrew's W.M.S. made $20. A large crowd attended the sale with bidding brisk at definite periods. Graded Holstein cattle averaged $300, while sale of implements is less attractive this time of year, average good prices were established.

Due to approaching Christmas season, meetings for several church organizations will be advanced one week in December. Bible Society - Dec. 4

The local branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society will meet in the basement of All Saints church, King, on Monday, Dec. 4, when a special representative of Toronto and district field work will be present. A film will be shown entitled "Thy Word Bringeth Light". Election of local officers and arrangements for district canvass in the interest of the work of the Bible Society will take place. Everyone is warmly welcome.

Kingcrafts Membership Up
The growing interest by the community in the recently formed Kingcrafts Guild is shown by the membership which has now reached 43 since October. The second general meeting held at the home of Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, Oak Ridge, on November 22, chaired by the president, Lady Flavell, drew several visitors from a wide district, among these being Mrs. Edna Blackburn of Langstaff who will demonstrate the art of spinning at the January meeting.

A display of "first work", made by members of the weaving, smocking and rugger groups not only demonstrated quality of work but exceeding interest in handicrafts. Delighted with the showing, Lady Flavell felt assured the future shows promise in the development of the Guild. She said the crafts would expand to pottery, leather and possibly in metals. The availability of Mrs. B. L. Staver, Aurora, an instructor of crafts was mentioned.

Sir Ellsworth Flavell, noted Canadian cameraman, who was introduced by his wife, showed a wide variety of Kodachrome color films which were enthusiastically enjoyed by the gathering. Mrs. A. E. Jarvis thanked Sir Ellsworth for his contribution to the afternoon's enjoyment expressing pride in his work as a Canadian film producer.

It was a matter of regret that Mrs. Beatty, the hostess, was not present due to the illness of her husband. A letter of thanks was approved to express appreciation to Mrs. Beatty for the use of her beautiful home by the guild.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Wilfred Denton pouring tea. The president's outline of a plan to form an associate membership was viewed with favor. Associate members would be invited to attend monthly meetings with the right to "drop in" on craft groups at work during the year. Thus the bond of active and associate members would have a common interest in the furtherance of the guild. The use of a Kingcraft insignia and the adoption of a creed was considered, the latter to bring in a small fee from those desiring a finished copy of the creed.

Children's Book Week

A genuine British Columbia totem pole presented to King Memorial library by Major C. M. Chandler provided the theme of Children's Book Week at King school conducted by Miss Marjorie Jarvis, head librarian. Due to the height of the pole a smaller replica made by Major Chandler was used by the speaker to give the history of the totem and numerous stories surrounding the totem pole. Senior students having seen others in the Royal Museum gave intelligent accounts of these.

Seeking further information on Indian customs, King students asked for books on this subject as well as dog and horse stories. Miss Jarvis spoke of the recent acquisition by the library of twenty beginners' books from the Travelling Library. Indian story books and crafts were on display at the library for book week.

PINE ORCHARD

Mrs. Edson Johnston, Misses Dorothy Brilling, Beth Johnston and Blossom Portingale, Pine Orchard Homemakers' club, were luncheon guests of the West Toronto Kiwanis club at the Royal York hotel winter fair recently. Mrs. J. Pyle was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pyle, Toronto.

The countryside was a fair-land over the weekend with the heavy fall of snow.

Mr. Harold Moddle of the Union church delivered a most helpful message on The Bread of Life on Sunday, Nov. 26. Mr. Moddle is leaving to accept the pastorate of Zephyr United church. We are sorry to have Mr. and Mrs. Moddle leave our church but wish them every success in their new charge. Miss Dorothy Ratcliffe sang In The Garden.

Willing Workers will meet at the home of Mrs. Emerson Sheppard on Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 2:30 p.m. Paper by Mrs. G. P. Wood on Gifts That Really Count. Roll-call: all of the 91st Psalm by memory. Election of officers and annual reports. Hostesses are Mrs. E. Sheppard and Mrs. W. Johnston.

A social evening was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. Preston and family at their home by the congregation of Pine Orchard Union church and Sunday-school on Saturday evening.

A presentation of flatware was made prior to their moving to a farm at Queensville.

MOUNT ZION

We are pleased that in spite of the weather there was a good attendance at the anniversary services. Guests included a number from Belhaven, Queensville and Zephyr as well as the speaker who arrived safely from Kitchener despite the heavy fall of snow.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. John Kellington is not well. Mrs. Stan Shanks has had the misfortune to fall and injure her arm. It may be some time before she has the use of it. Everyone hopes the time will pass quickly for her.

Mr. Clifford Sweet was confined to bed a short time last week with a severe cold. Services at Mount Zion are back on schedule following the anniversary, with Sunday-school at 10 a.m. and the evening service at 7:30 p.m. this Sunday.

Mr. Herb Cole has found it necessary to re-build a chimney.

The regular young people's meeting has been cancelled for this week since the group has accepted an invitation to Stouffville on December 4 where it will assist with the program. The annual school concert at Mount Zion will be held on Thursday, Dec. 21.

Mrs. Bobby Smith has been confined to hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Onions contain an oil similar to that used in tear gas bombs.

The new world's champion wheat king, 12-year-old Rickey Sharpe, Munson, Alta., proudly displays the Canadian National Railway's trophy, emblematic of the world's wheat growing championship, and engraved silver tray which he won at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Toronto, together with a cheque for $100. Rickey received the awards from A. J. Lomas, vice president, central region, C.N.R., at the world grain championship presentation ceremonies at the big fair.

We have never cared much for cats, but cats are anti-mice, so they say, and we have mice and now we have a cat. Our conversion to the faith of the cat-lover came about as simply as that.

We already have a dog, a cocker spaniel who loves to chase cats, and there was some doubt in the household about the reception the dog would give to the newcomer. The doubts haven't been entirely dispelled but at this writing, it is plain to see the cat is going to rule the roost.

They spent the first few hours of their acquaintance glaring at each other from either side of the stove. The dog was a tremble with eagerness for the chase, but restrained by the threat of a buffet in the ear. The cat, a puss really although it possesses a worldliness far beyond its two months, took advantage of this situation to curl up within inches of the nose of the outraged dog. This lasted for a half-hour until the dog finally lost all control, chased the cat into the corner, and got his nose scratched by his pains.

Now they pretty well keep to their own sides of the stove although the cat quite calmly samples the dog's food and in every other way possible, flaunts its conviction of its own superiority.

We note that there is evidence abroad which may seriously influence the position occupied in the minds of men by what they jocularly refer to as the "little woman". According to Louis E. Dublin, an insurance executive, the "little woman" has certain advantages which give her a considerable step ahead of men.

For example, women control a greater share of the nation's wealth. This most men will acknowledge in a purely personal way since their wives do the family buying and have the last word on budget matters. In the larger orbit of national affairs, however, women tend to outlive men and so are most frequently the beneficiaries of wills.

To be exact, they are beneficiaries of 80 percent of all life insurance in the United States, and receive 71 percent of the estates left by men and 64 percent of those left by other women.

And though the man who has tried to teach his wife how to fly cast, or explain to her the intricacies of the gasoline engine, may doubt it, Mr. Dublin asserts again that the female intelligence is not inferior but only different. In certain subjects, women excel; in others, men excel. It is as simple as that. They score about equally in intelligence tests.

Newmarket seems to be a drama-minded centre. The Newmarket Dramatic club has accomplished a great deal with its annual undertaking to stage a play a month during the winter season, and it has had under its aegis some remarkable talent. The club was formed, if we remember correctly, to give as many as wanted an opportunity to participate in stage-work.

In the main, it has adhered to that purpose and in the process, encouraged some noteworthy efforts.

Pickering College also has always had an active interest in stagework and has continued to produce, year after year, a Gilbert and Sullivan production. They are doing something a little different up there this year with their own version of the Oxbow Incident. Charles Beer and Ward Cornell, members of the college staff, authored the stage version. Fred Hagan, who did the sets for the Newmarket Dramatic club's "Dirty Work at the Crossroads", is also doing the Pickering sets.

GETTING AWAY FROM THE FARM

Exhibits at the Royal Winter Fair are supposed to be representative of the best in Canadian agriculture. There is cause to wonder, however, if this is so, particularly in the grain competitions. A couple of years ago, for example, grain grown in a garden plot in British Columbia walked off with championships in Toronto and Chicago. The entry could hardly be described as representative of commercial grain growers' crops.

The same criticism might be applied to plowing matches. The work done there has little relation to actual plowing on the home farm except insofar as it demonstrates in their ultimate perfection the qualities required of a good plowman. Then too, recent developments suggest that the kind of plowing done at the matches is useless in maintaining a healthy soil.

Grain contests and plowing matches can be demonstrations of infinite patience and care, but as competition has become keener, the object of these competitions has been farther removed from the agriculture. Surely the rules of entry in such contests can be revised so that the contests become again contests typical of normal agriculture activity.

ANNEXATION WITH GOODWILL

Whitchurch and Newmarket councils are to be congratulated on the manner in which they accomplished the annexation of the land to the west of the town as far as Yonge St. The re-arrangement of municipal boundaries is often a ticklish matter, and is frequently approached with all the finesse of a bull in a china shop.

There were, of course, circumstances to the annexation which made it desirable to both parties. The area is building up. It would have been folly for Whitchurch to meet the cost of services in that area when the town is the logical agency for it. But the matter might have been held off indefinitely and in a few years, become a highly irritable point of contention between the two municipalities.

That it was cleared up now reflects credit on the foresight of both parties.

PROVINCIAL AID DOUBTFUL VALUE

An adjustment in the amount of the grant that the provincial government had earlier assured Newmarket to assist payment of the new Prince Charles school has raised again the whole question of the benefits of provincial aid. The original grant promised the town had been for 50 percent. Now it has been reduced to 30 percent. The fact that grants provided by the province can vary 20 percent between the time the work is undertaken and its completion says very little for the dependability of this kind of aid.

Municipalities are collecting far less of their share of taxes than in the past, and the difference is being made up by grants from the province. It is a thoroughly undesirable practice. Municipalities are placed at the mercy of changes in government and policy. They are required to fulfill requirements established by a central authority before they can collect this assistance. And frequently those requirements pay no heed at all to local circumstances.

An example of this is the recent directive to King township from the province about the use of the township snowplow. The province paid 50 percent of the cost of the plow, as for all road equipment, in keeping with its system of grants. King has permitted use of the plow to clear some of those long farm lanes in the hilly land. But now, this has been prohibited by the province, and Queen's Park, by its control over grants, can make the decree stick.

There are numerous other local examples of policy making for municipalities by a central government in Queen's Park, sufficient to raise the oft repeated protest that the municipalities are reduced to nothing more than rubber stamps for provincial administration. In fairness, the province tries to insist upon what is best in the long run. But what is best from the province's viewpoint does not always jibe with the local facts.

The answer is, of course, a redistribution of tax powers between all three levels of government, or alternatively a return to the local governments a fair proportion of the non real estate taxes in lump sums, and not as grants for specific purposes as is now the practice. The foundation of government in Canada rests upon the municipal administrations, but as provincial and federal governments have grown, that foundation has been weakened until the whole administrative structure of the country is top heavy.

It will remain that way until the municipalities are permitted to exercise complete jurisdiction over their affairs, and given access to the income to support their administration.

NORTH YORK VIEWS AMALGAMATION

Amalgamation was discussed at at least two nomination meetings last week. Toronto's proposal to amalgamate with its 13 suburban municipalities is at present waiting the decision of the Board of Municipal Affairs after lengthy and hotly debated hearings.

When Mayor Hiram McCallum, at the urging of the provincial government, proposed amalgamation there was a fair amount of unanimity in support of the proposal in the city, and just as consistent opposition to it in the county. Now amalgamation has become an election issue in the city with a candidate for the mayoralty actively campaigning against amalgamation, supported on the same issue by several council candidates, while in the north county at least there is some belief that the northern municipalities would possibly be better off if they were rid of their southern neighbors.

Cost, in all its forms, seems to be the deciding factor in these views. It was argued, for example, at the East Gwillimbury nominations that if the county were divided by amalgamation, initial cost to the north end municipalities might be higher, but in a few years would level off into a more efficient and economical administration than the county now offers.

A factor in this conclusion was this year's arguments in county council over equalization of assessment. Northern representatives feel that their urbanized neighbors to the south are not giving a fair contribution to county levies. A county assessor has been proposed, but some of the north feel that if the county council can't settle its assessment affairs without recourse to such an office, the north would be better off out of the council entirely.

Another argument in favor of the partition has its roots in the distant past. That is the argument that the urban municipalities south of Steele's Corners (in a rough division) have little in common with the rural north, and the contrasting viewpoints have frequently cost the north benefits that would have received a more sympathetic hearing in an all-rural council.

The difficulty in making decisions on the benefits to the north end of the county should the county be partitioned is the lack of complete figures. For example, it was said earlier by the county auditor that should the county be partitioned, the cost of administration of the north end as a county unit would be double the present county levy at the very least, and the cost would increase in the future. Those figures, we understand, are now being revised.

It is a fact that the municipalities excluded from Toronto's amalgamation plans have among them only 14 percent of the population and the assessment for the county, but they have, with other disproportionate costs, the maintenance of some 70 percent of the county roads. Opponents of amalgamation have argued that the north end would thus be penalized by amalgamation.

Some of the present objections to maintaining the county as it is arise from the conduct of affairs in the county council. But it could be questioned, however, whether this is the fault of the county council system. It could be the members of council themselves, and if this is so, to call for partition on the ground of a dislike of the council would be fallacious reasoning.

Toronto's proposal to amalgamate its suburbs arose from its need for a vastly increased assessment with which to carry its steadily rising maintenance cost. Amalgamation will offer temporary relief but the same problem of expanding costs and limited assessment will arise again as the city's rate of growth continues. We see nothing to be gained in the long run for the city by amalgamation.

The answer to the city's financial problem lies elsewhere, on a provincial level. Toronto is treated as any other municipality in the payment of grants, when in reality, its size sets it apart. It should be given special consideration in keeping with those problems.

It has grown increasingly apparent in the last decade, that growth of a municipality to the size of Toronto is not a process which should be encouraged. The emphasis now is on decentralization, not a further concentration of population, assessment and civic authority. Amalgamation runs directly counter to modern trends.

The amalgamation issue, shorn of its irrelevances, comes down finally to a single question to be answered on a provincial level: Will Toronto's growth be curbed and provincial assistance provided as an alternative to the assessment to be had from amalgamation, or will the province take the easy way out and with convenience served instead of common sense, permit the city to expand still further? It is a question to be settled in the provincial legislature, not by its agency, the municipal board.

"Man," writes Slim Bliggins from a cave in France, "has been a passenger for a mere few minutes during the existence of this terrestrial globe. What's he aiming for if his existence is only a trifling bit of time between ice ages?"

Slim Bliggins is in Europe taking a long-term view of the world situation. Like many people these days, correspondents, economists, professors and women's editors, Slim has taken a jaunt to the old countries. They come back crammed full of facts and they form opinions (delicately moulded to fit the present trend in public opinion) which they have printed in newspapers.

But not Slim Bliggins, our natural born philosopher-artist. He abhors public opinion and if possible, ignores it. And he never writes to or for the newspapers. It is only through your favorite cat correspondent that the fruits borne by the mind of this great thinker ever reach the public eye.

Slim has found a sculptured head (a lifelong ambition of his in the last two months) and an example of some prehistoric cave murals.

"The head," writes Slim, "has the same qualities as the head of Brancusi. 'I don't mean Brancusi's own head but rather the well known head which Brancusi sculpted. Bein' an authority on Brancusi's head, it is natural that I would detect the resemblance.'"

Most people know who Brancusi is. For the benefit of those who do not know Brancusi, your correspondent would suggest going to the library and looking up an article in the January 15 issue, 1944, of "The International Review of Sculptors and Woodcarvers of the World".

"I expect this here head," Slim writes, "was sculpted by them Cro-Magnon men who died out before the last ice age when the Wurm ice sheet moved over Europe. "All of which gets me thinkin' as I sit here in this here dank French cave, how much better it would be for the future of homo sapiens if he would take the simple example of the past and judge his actions of the future accordingly."

"This here globe over periods of millions of years goes through cyclical of freezin' and meltin' and man is just a drop in the bucket between two freeze-ups. Why in consternation doesn't he take advantage of the warm weather while it lasts and settle down to developin' his own sassiety instead of blastin' it to pieces? Why kill himself off before he's due? We don't want premature extinction and if he'd smarten up enough maybe he could live right through the next ice age in Quanset huts and continue on into the next cyclical instead of lettin' himself get extinct like Cro-Magnon."

(This European commentary on world events is original and unabridged, copyrighted by the Ginger Syndicate Inc.)

Slim's life in France, however, is not all work and no play by any means. He has been carrying on his activities nocturnally in Paris of course.

"Last Saturday night," writes Slim, "I tramped down the Champs Elissies and eventually found my way to a small Parisien club called the Folies Were There. It was there that I saw Mimi from Cassini do her traditional dance of the Arangu-bola-tumdums."

Of course there are few who have not heard of Mimi from Cassini who dances. Her famous interpretation of the Pompeian eruption is probably known better than any other dance that has been performed in third class night clubs.

"But," adds Slim, "to one who thoughtfully ponders the centuries and prehistoric past and surveys the whole in the clear light of the spirit, what is Paris? Poof!"

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

Over two years ago, we were asked by the editor if we would write this farm column. At that time, there were a few subjects we thought we would like to bring before the public. The first few columns were rather easy—then we had to begin to dig up material to write about.

We took farm organization as a main topic because we thought that we could be of some assistance to the farm people by telling what was being done and what could be done. Some of those articles were far from being complimentary to the farmer.

We received no remuneration for writing this column and did not wish any. We were led to believe that this column did get some reading. Lately we are told that our articles are too much the same—that the farm people are not reading "back concession" as they used to.

With the editor's consent, I would like to make a suggestion to the farm people of York county: I would like to take a few weeks off from writing and so that this space will not be lost, I would ask the farm people of York county to carry on this column with their letters and comment.

I frankly admit my articles are running too much along the same subject. The reason is that to get facts, we have to check back. The things we find make us ball. This week we checked the cost of some cuts of meat—wholesale price, 14c per lb., retail price 45c per lb.

One writer claims that some culls in the head are caused by emotional disturbances. We have plenty of culls in the head. We were told one time that culls always hit the weakest part of the body.

To have the opinion of a large number of farm people in Back Concession column for a few weeks would, we think, be beneficial because we may not have given a true cross section of the farm opinion in our column.

On behalf of the interested rural and urban readers of this column, I wish to thank the editor for allowing Back Concession this space for the past two years. I wish to personally thank those who have written complimentary remarks about this column and also, thank those who have given verbal criticism—for criticism keeps all men within due bounds—Sincerely Back Concession.

Editor's Note: Back Concession has been a valuable contributor to this page, and it is with regret that we read of his decision to suspend his efforts for a time. He has been an energetic and consistent advocate of the farm viewpoint and as such, we feel, contributed much to the improvement of farm ways.

He suggests that farm readers forward their letters and comment. They will most certainly be welcome. In the meantime, however, the column will be carried on by another farm writer from this district.

Writing a weekly column can be a heavy drain on time and effort, particularly when the writer is an active farmer himself. Back Concession never missed a deadline and his material was always readable. We will miss him on this page.

THAT CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

says

So many have stopped me to ask if I was ill, or was I away again, because they did not find my usual column in the paper two weeks ago. I assure you I am in my usual good health and spirits and having a wonderful week. But as to my week before last's column it was, as Mr. Editor says, "crowded out"—and being of a subject that could nicely wait a week, Santa Claus, it could better be laid over than a good many other things. Mr. Editor was so sorry but it was just that there was altogether too much material for one week's issue of our good old Era and Express!

But here I am again, and I'm just bubbling over to tell you what's been happening to me and what's been happening to many more of Newmarket's citizens as well. You never need to be dull in good old Newmarket—or so I find!

I must first tell you that I wrote about last year's Santa Claus parade from bits I recalled and then on the Saturday I listened in on the radio, for very few of us felt equal to getting up an hour earlier than we did last year to get down to Toronto in time. This "two times" is surely getting us down but it will be over when you read this! We'll all be back to standard time and will be ever be thankful! Yes, I listened in to the whole broadcast—Wally Crouter over CFRE—and I lived last year's parade all over again. I think the fact that I wrote about it brought it all back more vividly. Well, next will be our own Santa Claus parade here in town and we will all turn out and line Main St. as usual and all the children for miles around will come to town to see it. And I assure you, it is always worthwhile.

ing entertained and entertaining, the days do certainly fly past and we find ourselves scrambling as usual at the last minute to get everything done. Oh, that last, glad Christmas rush! It may be hard on us—but who of us would miss it? There are so many, many things you just can't do till the last minute. Somebody once told me she couldn't work up the Christmas spirit till the very last few days before Christmas and how she loved that last awful scurrying around to get everything done before the glad day.

If anybody hasn't acquired the Christmas spirit you let him read Dickens's Christmas Carol and if anybody who was at the Horticultural Society's pot luck supper a week ago Wednesday evening and heard and watched our guest speaker, Mr. Ernest Kohler, demonstrate the making of our own Christmas decorations, if they didn't get the Christmas spirit then I don't know what they want. That surely was an eye-opener.

If I start on his demonstration I'll not have room left, I know, to tell about something else that I enjoyed so much also this week—and that was seeing the film, "Little Women", at the theatre. Every girl, I expect the modern ones as well as us of earlier days, has read Little Women by Louisa M. Alcott—how we loved Meg and Jo and Beth and Amy. Yes, there was Amy in bed with the clothes-pin on her nose! She would suffer torture to make herself beautiful! Jo, of course, was everybody's favorite—and I expect a tear rolled down many a cheek when she sacrificed her beautiful hair to raise money so that her mother could go to her soldier husband, wounded in battle and lying very ill in a hospital in Washington. Jo, who romped through the picture practically to the end. Yes, we all enjoyed Jo in that technicolor picture.

Christmas Decorations
Now I must get back to the wonderful evening we had last Wednesday (a week ago, I mean), when Mr. Kohler so beautifully and expertly showed us how he made his delightful Christmas decorations. I was talking with him before we sat down to pot luck supper in the school room where we held the meeting and I said how very interesting all the many tissue-wrapped parcels looked. He smiled mysteriously and said, "You'll see—you'll find out!" And so I did. Indeed I did, and every different creation he demonstrated was more fascinating than the last. When the time came for his talk, as I said, he did not talk much. Yes he did—he talked with his nimble, skillful fingers and hands as he created wonder after wonder under our astonished gaze.

On the table on the stage he had an assortment of weird looking branches, looking for all the world like tangled deer antlers, and plenty of other things to work with. But when he started to work and created things of beauty from material gathered in the woods, we simply stared in amazement. You see, he was demonstrating that you can make your own Christmas decorations from things nature provides for us, free for picking them up. Evergreen cones, baby bulrushes, pine branches, lichens, mosses and the weird looking branches from dead trees and from the roots of trees, as he said, culled from stump fences. It was a revelation!

Chunks of wood cut to lie flat, made into an attractive centerpiece—resembling half a log. With a touch of aluminum paint to make it look like birch bark, I suppose, holes drilled to make candle-holders. Small branches of evergreen and red ribbons and red tinsel paper—and there you were! He made bells of silver paper, made candy canes so realistic you wanted to sample them, made a bell from a tiny flower pot with a clapper inside, made circles out of rubber hose and covered them with gay paper. Some branches of evergreen he sprayed a silver-blue and had an all blue centerpiece. Some he made to look like ships! And there were from 15 to 20 different creations, not two alike!

But the "ming tree", oh Mr. Editor, I know I am making this too long, and I must tell about the precious "ming tree". We were all thrilled to see it afterwards. It was a fairly small creation, made from an old root looking like a small dead tree. Fungus and lichens and moss made the foundation, but the tiny figurines of two Chinese and a small Chinese pig and a bush with yellow flowers completed the most unique centre piece of all.

Now to end—I was given a preview of the dressed dolls that St. Paul's evening branch is preparing for the community bazaar on Tuesday next in the town hall. I advise everybody to get there early and see those beauties. There was a bride, complete with train and wedding veil and streamer bouquet with tiny flowers, the bridesmaids in colored gowns—and they carried tiny nosegays too. And all the clothes can be put on and off. Dolls with knitted suits, a highland lassie complete even to a tiny sporrán, a nurse, correct to the last detail with her nurse's cape over her dress, a Red Riding Hood with her basket of goodies for her granny and her tiny bouquet of flowers. There is a baby bunting done in blue.

Oh, I can't begin to tell of all the lovely dolls and the stuffed animals, the giraffes, the bunnies and the lamb that has a bell round its neck and its ears lined with pink and a pink nose. Be sure and see them!

John Rye New East Gwill. Reeve Fight For Deputy Reeveship Council

Jack Rye has been acclaimed reeve, and there are two candidates for deputy-reeveship and four for the council in East Gwillimbury. Kenneth Ross in an announcement which came as somewhat of a surprise, said he was retiring from the office of reeve. Mr. Rye was deputy reeve last year.

The two candidates for the deputy-reeve ship are last year's councillors, Titus Peregrine and Longford Pegg. The candidates for council are Urwin Tate, councillor last year, Walter Rate, Walter Rose, and John S. Osborne. Mr. Osborne was nominated to all three council offices but chose to run for a council seat.

Election will be held on Monday, Dec. 4.

John L. Smith, township clerk, was chairman of the nomination meeting, and he called to the platform two former deputy Reeves, Joe Harrison and Welly Stevens.

The meeting was enlivened by criticism of council that it was spending too much money for benefits received made by Mr. Osborne and answered individually by most of the council candidates by comparative figures.

Tribute was paid by several speakers to Mr. Smith for his efficiency, helpfulness and common sense as clerk of the township.

The meeting took the form of statement and rebuttal as members of council were permitted to answer criticism. The following are the highlights of their remarks:

Mr. Ross: Expressed some doubts on the amalgamation question, wondering if it wouldn't be better for the northern municipalities to be on their own. Was critical of the way the county council conducted its business, particularly the matter of assessment. He was proud of the present position of East Gwillimbury, and he thanked the township officers who has co-operated with him.

Mr. Rye: Told of his work on the county council in agriculture and reforestation committees, and said he anticipated an increased county levy. He expected a difficult year ahead in county council with amalgamation ahead. Was doubtful which was wisest, to stick with county or to separate north from south. There were pros and cons to the question.

Wanted to have the fourth concession placed under Toronto and York Roads commission because of volume of city traffic on it. Many extra services may have been wanted by township but they all cost money and he doubted if real estate could pay much more in taxes.

J. S. Osborne: Nominated as reeve, said he thought younger men should be encouraged to move ahead and declined to run as reeve. He asked to speak later in meeting.

Deputy Reeve Longford Pegg: Spoke of the weed spraying and road work. Referred to the opening of the south town line between seventh and eighth.

Titus Peregrine: Enlarged on the weed question and asserted his belief in the efficiency of spray methods to reduce weeds. He described how opening south townline costs were settled leaving $500 and East Gwillimbury to pay.

Council Mr. Tate: Has had two years of experience, hoped to give township benefit. Referred to school costs and pointed out that they were out of control of township council. Had some difficulty over school taxes in north Newmarket. Need more assessment to help offset rising costs.

Mr. Rate: If elected, he said he would do his best to serve the township.

Mr. Rose: Referred to the length of time Rose family in the township, since 1823. Will do my best if elected, he said.

Mr. Osborne: Wondered at increased tax revenue, particularly the heavy outlay on roads where double the men now employed as in his term of office. Said township taxes were only $52,000 in his last term against $83,000 today. In 1943, taxes on his farm were only $119 and now $190. Referred to mowing weeds, and was critical of the amount of weeds missed. He said a lot of money could be saved in township expenditures.

Referred to amalgamation talk and said he believed north end of county better off if separated. He didn't agree with earlier speakers that cost would be high for first years. He was critical of heavy expenditure for new county building.

In accordance with chairman's ruling, members of last year's council were allowed to reply to Mr. Osborne's criticisms.

Mr. Ross: Charged Mr. Osborne too indefinite with his criticism. He said taxes everywhere were higher than before. More expenditure required on roads because traffic vastly increased.

Mr. Rye: Of the $52,000 in Mr. Osborne's term, only $14,000 required for schools. Now $38,000 required from taxes for schools and township has no control over them. Taxes compare very favorably with other municipalities and there is no debenture debt except those for local improvements.

Mr. Pegg: He replied in the same manner as Mr. Rye, quoting township revenue and school taxes at the time of Mr. Osborne's term and the present.

Both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Stevens spoke, the former remarking on the difficulty of equalizing assessments between rural and urban properties in the county, and the latter noting the large number of changes and the heavy increases in the cost of living over the last 15 years.

Seven Run For Council, Four For School Board Newmarket Returns Top Three

There are seven candidates for the six council seats and four candidates for the three public school board seats in Newmarket. The election will be held on Monday, Dec. 4. Mayor Joseph Vale, Reeve Arthur D. Evans and Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette were acclaimed as was Fred S. Thompson for the hydro commission.

The seven council candidates are the six members of last year's council, Frank Bowser, Jos. Dales, Rudy Renzius, Lorne Paynter, Charles VanZant and Tom Birrell and running for the second time as council candidate, Mrs. Violet Robinson MacNaughton.

Three public school board members must be elected for two-year terms. The four candidates are J. L. R. Bell and Herb Atkins, seeking re-election, and Mrs. Keith Davis and J. A. Perks, seeking office on the board for the first time. Ken Morton, whose term expired this year, is not seeking re-election.

There was little interest shown in nominations with less than 50, including candidates, in the town hall. Commenting on the poor attendance, Fred A. Lundy, chairman, repeated his suggestion that the actual nominations be made in the afternoon with a pre-election meeting making an early start in the evening. "By the time the candidates are ready to speak, the hour is too late to accord each a proper hearing," he said.

The following are remarks of the candidates on nomination night:

Mayor Vale: Expressed his sincere pleasure at his acclamation. He regretted that no public recognition had been given those who gave their labor to the rink. But said there has been so many who had contributed, that plans had to be discarded as impractical.

He noted a growing interest among industry in Newmarket as a place to locate, and said he had spent the equivalent of three weeks' time over the year on industrial matters. Sewage disposal plant was a major consideration this coming year, and he discussed the possibility of financing were given to the junior members of the school. The middle school diplomas and honor graduation diplomas were awarded on Friday. Also on Friday evening athletic and academic prizes were given to senior students. Ralph Rank was the valedictorian. Jean McDonald, our head girl, presented Miss Griffin with a mixer for the Home Economics classes as a token of appreciation from the student council. The musical entertainment on both nights was provided by the mixed glee club and girls' glee club. Anne Stephenson and Don Watson sang solos. A one-act tragedy was staged both nights by Mary Stocks, Mary Adams, Heather Moffat and Betty Holman. The acting was so good that many people in the audience were crying. The play was under the direction of Miss Spooner.

December 8 is a red letter day for both Aurora and Newmarket. There is to be a dance at Aurora at which the students of Newmarket are to be guests.

—Shirley Liversidge

Fred A. Lundy, long time reeve and former warden of York county council, was chairman of the nomination meeting on Friday. He has been re-appointed to the Toronto and York Roads Commission.

Newmarket. She said she hadn't come to the meeting to make any promises but if elected, she would do her best to serve the town.

Mr. Dales: Paid tribute to his committee mate, Mr. Birrell, and council generally as a grand bunch to do a job, and said that no one shirked his responsibilities. He said he had gained valuable experience and that, with his legal training, provided means of a contribution to town affairs.

Mr. Birrell: No one would rather see a new town hall than I would, he said. But first things like roads and sewers must come first. The court offices have been built into the town hall at a cost of $4,500 and we hope to use the rest of the ground floor for the town office and sell the Main St. building. We can put the market in the basement. There has been some criticism about charging for the use of the town hall but revenues from that source have come to $2,616, and from other property, $6,554.

Mr. Bowser: We have begun an extensive improvement of sidewalks and roads, and the saving in insurance premiums will in themselves help pay a large portion of the cost. Weather has prevented us from completing all that we wanted this year but we will be continuing the work next year. The pavement resurfacing job will add another 15 or 20 years of life to our roads.

Sewage disposal plant is a must for this year, and the time is coming when we will be considering an incinerator as part of our disposal system. We are aiming at the most efficient and economical sanitation service possible.

Mr. Paynter: He was happy to be associated with Mr. Bowser in the progress made on roads and sidewalks this year, and proud to have played a part in inaugurating the new garbage system, he

Teen Topics

By CRIS MOORE

Teen Topics is based on letters received and does not necessarily apply to any one individual.

Dear Cris:

I have been going with a boy since September and I really like him. I know he likes me, but he keeps doubting me. Everything I say he seems to doubt.

Two years ago I went with this same boy, but for some reason I dropped him. I know he is afraid the same thing will happen again, but during the two years, I liked him a lot and he waited for me. If he really liked me that much, why does he continually doubt me?

A boy from Toronto whom I dropped a year ago still keeps bothering me, but I don't like him anymore. If I could get rid of him, I know it would help convince the other boy. Every time this city fellow's name is mentioned it starts another argument, and I have to start all over again and explain.

How am I going to get rid of this fellow in the city and how can I convince the other boy that I really like him?

M.C.

Your story is most touching, but really if you are as big a flirt as your letter implies, I am afraid that I can't sympathize with you. After all, your boy friend can't be blamed for doubting you.

I don't believe that you should have any trouble ridding yourself of an old flame. Be firm, tell him you never want to see him again and if he has any decency he'll let you alone after that. If he still persists, I'm afraid that you will have to employ your boy friend for stronger measures.

I think that your "Doubting Thomas" will no longer doubt after you have proved to him that you are no longer fickle.

TO THE ELECTORS of Newmarket

It is not possible to contact you all individually and I am therefore taking this opportunity to ask you for your support on Monday, Dec. 4, when I will be a candidate for council.

I have lived in Newmarket all my life and my interests are tied up with the welfare of Newmarket.

At the present time, all members of council appear to be of one mind, and a little opposition would be of great value in promoting decisions on those questions which are frequently laid aside.

For example, the smoke and soot problem. Why should this matter be shelved and no mention made of it at the nomination meeting? Surely there is no difficulty here. Could not the whole question be discussed between those affected by the anti-smoke by-law and the council, and a solution satisfactory to all be reached?

Anything which the present council does not find to its liking is just not discussed, and there is no one on council to force the issue.

I am seeking election because I believe the council needs a voice which will speak out on these questions, and follow them up until they are settled.

All King Twp. Council Back Two Nominees Drop Out Discuss Planning Board

King township council has been acclaimed for a second term. Council members are Elton Armstrong, reeve; T. Arthur McCutcheon, deputy-reeve; Ray Jennings, William Hodgson and Russell Snider, councillors. Norman D. MacMurchy, nominated for reeve, and William Kehoe, as councillor, did not qualify, leaving the present council in office.

The attendance at the nomination meeting held at Nobleton community hall on November 24 was small compared to other occasions.

The reeve reported sufficient funds on hand to meet expenses to January 15, without having to borrow funds. When Reeve Armstrong took office in January, 1950, he said there was nothing with which to meet expenses. While it is not good business to have too much, it is good business to have sufficient funds not to be forced to "scrounge around" for the first $100, the reeve said. In county council every department ended the year within its budget, he stated.

One of the major concerns of King representatives in county council is the movement of the equalized assessment committee to put a $1,000,000 more on the assessment of King twp. as favored by the southern municipalities. Vaughan and Markham are equally opposed to comparable assessment increases for these townships.

On the agenda for 1951 is the formation of a township planning board to aid the builder and to maintain the value of houses already constructed.

On the township's position regarding York County Health Unit, the reeve said the question had been voted upon by ratepayers of the school sections of the township and the majority were against entry into the county health plan. "Council has left the matter in the hands of citizens," the reeve stated.

W. E. Barker, King, said he felt the township is entitled to more representation on the Aurora high school district board. Of the seven on the board, two said, although pointing out that the whole council had been behind him in this. He paid tribute to the efficiency of the police force and said the parking meters had greatly reduced the traffic problem in Newmarket. It was hoped to use the revenue from the meters in traffic improvements and in the numbering of houses. This latter must be done if there is to be postal delivery. Newmarket's size makes postal delivery an early possibility and would be taken up in council.

Mr. VanZant and Mr. Renzius did not speak.

SCHOOL BOARD CANDIDATES

Mrs. Keith Davis: With two school-age children, am concerned with school affairs, she said. She was critical of sending children across town by bus to attend school in other section of town, and that if elected, she would support a move to buy school books in bulk and resell to parents at cost.

Mr. Perks: Four years in council and a membership of nine years in the Home and School Association were indicative of his interest in school and civic matters, he said. He would serve to the best of his ability.

Mr. Atkins and Mr. Bell did not speak.

Roche's Pt. Pupils Tour Newmarket Industries

The children of the senior room of Roche's Point school and their principal, Neil H. Anderson, accompanied by Rev. M. C. D. Hutt, Mrs. Jim Porter, Mrs. Ben Tomlinson, also of Roche's Point, journeyed to Newmarket November 17 where they were conducted on extensive tours through the Dixon Pencil Company, the Bender Casket Company, and the Davis Leather Company.

Arriving at the Dixon Pencil Company at 1:30 p.m. the school group were met by personnel of the company who took the children in groups through the plant. The children were able to see the process of manufacture of the lead pencil from the forest and mine to the finished product.

Then Mr. Anderson and Rev. Hutt took the children to the Bender Casket Company where they were again conducted through the plant by company personnel. The children expressed great interest as they witnessed the manufacture of another essential product of Canada's vast forest resources.

The final tour through the Davis Leather Company was informative as the children saw skins of animals from various countries, treated, tanned and finally the leather product ready for shipment.

The afternoon tour was a great experience for all. It portrayed to the children that scientific research and art combined with experience and labor will still lead our nation to greater achievements.

DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU!

Wrap PARCELS carefully!

It's a shame to see gifts broken in transit yet it happens so often because they haven't been properly wrapped for mailing. Avoid possible damage to parcel contents by using a strong container. Protect documents, pictures, etc. with stiffening boards. Tie securely with strong cord or twine.

Send a POSTAL MONEY ORDER instead of cash!

Envelopes can accidentally break or tear in handling and money be lost. Whenever you send money through the mails, it's safer to use Postal money orders. You can get them at your Post Office.

CORRECT POSTAGE saves embarrassment!

Be sure to use the correct amount of postage. If you are in doubt, always have your letter or parcel weighed because the recipient must pay double the deficient postage. This is especially important on overseas air mail.

Be sure ADDRESS is clear... correct and complete!

You can help your Post Office by writing clearly when you address letters or parcels. Full name, street address, Post Office Box number or Rural Route number and return address in top left hand corner should always be included.

YOUR Post Office is your friendly servant.

Ask for help with your postal problems at any time... and ask about the various services available, such as: Air Mail, Canada Air Letters, special delivery, registration, Rural Directories, insurance of parcel post, C.O.D., gift parcels for overseas, international and Imperial reply coupons, and the Post Office Savings Bank.

Three Seek Reeveship, Two For Deputy Reeve In North Gwillimbury

North Gwillimbury will go to the polls on December 4 to elect a reeve and a deputy-reeve. At nomination meeting last Friday afternoon members of council acclaimed were former reeve William A. King, Cecil Prosser and Charles W. Richardson, all on council last year. Three were nominated for the reeveship and two for the deputy-reeveship at Belhaven hall.

Cecil Prosser, nominated for both council and the deputy-reeveship, declined the candidacy for the deputy-reeveship in favor of a council position. William King who has been on council for seven years and reeve for the last five years reverted to council again by acclamation. "I have never missed a council meeting in seven years," he said.

"This year I prefer to be just a member of council but I would have preferred to get in by a vote. I think a lot of people wanted to vote against me and I am only sorry they didn't have a chance. I don't pretend to have done anything wonderful as reeve but I am sure that I could not have done anything more than I did," said Mr. King.

For the reeveship Miss Lillian Holborn was nominated by Dr. J. C. R. Edwards and Lorne Holborn, John Louis Doyle by A. Walnick and Mrs. Mary Munro, and Clark Martin by Erwin Winch and A. R. Pollock.

For the deputy-reeveship Mrs. Arline Link was nominated by C. E. Fowlsom and Miss Ella Morton, Roy Pollock by George White and William King.

Candidates for Reeve

Mr. Doyle as a candidate for reeve said that he was interested in the township roads in particular. "I would like to compliment the council and the road superintendent on the improvements in widening many township roads," he said. "The improvement to the old Metropolitan right-of-way is a move in the right direction to relieve heavy traffic on the lake shore. It would be well to have it improved a bit."

"We have a rapidly growing summer resort area with more cottages every year and more traffic. Our roads take quite a beating in summer and I think if we could use more road oil it would be well spent. Something is needed as a binder. Much gravel is thrown into the ditches by traffic and wasted. At least 6,000 yards of gravel were put on roads this year."

"Providing the government will subsidize part of the oil costs I think more use of oil would be advisable. Previously we got the government to subsidize 25 percent for oil and 50 percent for gravel. If I were elected I would try and get a greater subsidy for oil. If the council graded roads, bought a roller to go along with oiling and gravelling, the roads would last from three to five years with a little patching," said Mr. Doyle.

Miss Lillian Holborn said that women should use their influence in the civic administration by supporting with their votes and their voices.

"Talking creates action," she said. "It takes a woman to do a good job of housecleaning and I say that's what is needed here in North Gwillimbury."

"Two thirds of the taxpayers do not live in the township," said Miss Holborn. "I do not live here myself but I live within five miles and own property within the township which gives me the right to stand for election. I have had a business at Willow Beach for some time and have lived in this part of the country for 40 years."

"My interest has always been with the agriculturalists. Once I visited all sections of the county at school fairs. One of my most earnest efforts will be to create a better understanding between permanent residents and summer residents. There will be favoritism to none to the full extent of my activity, proper assessment adjustments, protection of our beautiful lake shore drive by preserving natural beauty of the township by protecting trees and governing their removal."

"I am told we have a hundred miles of township roads. That means that we have used six yards of gravel per mile per year, according to Mr. Doyle's figures. I don't know whether that is enough or not."

"Without belittling the members of the police force, I say that we have not had enough police protection. I think we should give all possible assistance to the county health unit, improve the system of collecting revenues. For instance we have collected far less than we should have in dog tax revenue."

"I intend to keep my eye on the roads and drainage conditions. Let's give this rich community a place it deserves in this county. They say that it's 'who you know' at county council that counts. Let's let them know there what we know and not sit back and be passive."

"I have served two years on the Sutton council in the past," said Miss Holborn, "14 years on the Children's Aid Board, worked for the Red Cross during the war here and in Toronto and who was refused a position on the township. Council didn't even have the decency to answer his application. "I will not 'pussy-foot' around like I have seen others do on this council. If I am in there there will be no whispering over the council table, no military secrets. If farmers come to council meetings they will get proper hearing," she said. "I came to council as an inexperienced individual," said Roy Pollock, last year's deputy-reeve who is opposing Mrs. Link. "It was a pleasure to sit with the council last year," he said, "but I think it is only fair to say that mistakes have been made. "Some actions are right in some people's opinions and they are wrong in other people's opinions. I have often found reasons for altering a course of action, reasons I did not know about before I came to council. "Equalization of assessments is a problem we must face. How serious it is I do not know but it is not too serious to be remedied." (Continued on Page 16, Col. 3)

COMMITTEE KEPT BUSY

Bulbs, Plants Given Schools
Essay, Art Contest Held

The juvenile committee of the Newmarket Horticultural Society under the convenship of Mrs. Anton Czernick has had a busy and successful year. Five subscriptions to the National Geographic magazine were provided for the elementary schools in town.

This fall, narcissi and hyacinths were distributed to the five elementary schools for indoor forcing. The society also supplied the flower pots in which the children and their teachers planted the bulbs. Mrs. Czernick, not overlooking a single detail, compiled instructions for bulb planting which accompanied the gift of bulbs and mixed great quantities of peat moss, sand and garden loam which was distributed to the classes for the planting.

In addition to the bulbs, over 100 potted plants were distributed to the schools with the society providing the flower pots for these. Lessons in science and art were co-related to this project by the teachers.

Members of the society donated several hundred tulips and daffodils which were planted at the Alexander Muir school grounds by the pupils of grades three and four under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Czernick. These bulbs replaced annuals which the society had provided for summer blooming in the beds at the school grounds.

In the spring, an essay contest was sponsored for students in grade eight with Grant Morton writing the winning essay. The essay dealt with the conservation of the wild flowers in Ontario. Prizes in this contest, three to each of the three grade eight classes in town, were donated by the Office Specialty Mfg. Co.

Another successful project of the juvenile committee was the art contest sponsored in grades one to seven inclusive in the elementary schools. The contest was conducted during the regular school hours with all the children participating. Two prizes, small books on birds, flowers and trees, were awarded in each of the classes. The winning drawings were exhibited at the society's iris show in June.

Members of the committee include: Mrs. Elman Campbell, Miss Evelyn Denne, two of the Sisters of Providence, H. A. Jackson, Samuel Jefferson, William Blackshaw and the chairman, Mrs. Czernick.

HANDCRAFT GROUP SEEKS TO CUT COST

A meeting of the Newmarket Handcraft group was held at the home of Mrs. N. L. Mathews on Tuesday, Nov. 21, when plans for the second annual community bazaar to be held in the town hall on Tuesday, Dec. 5, were completed. Mrs. Ted Mitchell presided.

A pleasant afternoon was spent with the ladies holding an active discussion period on weaving problems. Much time was spent in considering ways in which the expense of weaving could be curtailed so that the finished articles could be retailed at a lower price.

There have been steady increases in the cost of the threads and if this trend continues it will place many of the articles in the luxury class. Various solutions such as the purchasing of raw materials in larger quantities were suggested and consideration will be given to this matter before the next meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Any individuals wishing to enter articles in the community bazaar are requested to contact Mrs. George McNelly or Mrs. Ted Mitchell not later than tomorrow night. The Handcraft group will handle the sale of work with 15 percent being retained from all sales to help cover expenses.

Handwork must be clearly marked as to price and owner's name and may be left today with Mrs. Stewart Beare, 113 Main St.

TRINITY W.A. SEEKS BOOKS FOR HOSPITAL

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Association of Trinity United church will be held on Thursday, Dec. 7, at 2:45 p.m. in the school room. Plans have been made for a special Christmas party and all the ladies of the congregation are invited to enjoy this social afternoon.

Christmas carols will be played by the organist, Norman Hurrie. There will be Christmas readings and a cup of tea will be served.

At the November meeting it was decided to have a shower of comic books, coloring books and hard candy for the mentally defective boys at the hospital, the former De La Salle school, south of Aurora. Contributions to this shower would be greatly appreciated. Kindly bring them to the December 7 meeting or if you are unable to attend, leave your contributions at Campbell's Book Store.

CONGRATULATE AUX.
ON YEAR'S WORK

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, Newmarket branch, was held November 18 at the home of Mrs. Donald Burch. There were about 20 present. Mrs. Robert Bunn presided.

Mrs. E. Beryl Fleet, King, zone representative, made her annual visit to the auxiliary. She congratulated the local group on the excellent work accomplished during the past year.

Plans were completed for the holding of a cribbage and euchre party at the town hall on Thursday, Dec. 7. Mrs. Arthur Sheridan will convene the event.

The nominations and election of officers will be held at the December meeting. A full attendance is requested for this important occasion.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

On Tuesday, Dec. 5, a project which was attempted for the first time last year will have a repeat performance at the Newmarket town hall when the second annual community bazaar is staged. The idea was conceived by Mrs. Ted Mitchell, president of the Newmarket Handcraft group, which is acting as the official sponsor of the undertaking. This year's convener is Mrs. George McNelly.

For weeks art and craft enthusiasts in the vicinity have been busily engaged in the many preparations for this event. Church groups have worked on their specialties and the resulting bazaar should be the tremendous success last year's venture was. The most startling innovation is that not just one group or organization will participate as happens in the regular Christmas bazaars, but many groups will assist. In all, over 14 groups or individuals will have booths at the bazaar and for the person having but a few articles for sale, arrangements have been made for such items to be handled by the members of the Handcraft group at its table.

First Quality Work
The Handcraft group which is fostering the bazaar has earned a reputation for first quality products. Just two years ago October, many in the group took a course in weaving. This was given in town through the provincial department of planning and development. These ladies have not only prepared table mats, shag rugs, towels and such items on their looms, but are wearing suits and coats which have been tailored from material of their own weaving. Their husbands also, lucky men, are sporting suits woven by these industrious craft workers.

The women's organizations from the local churches, the Catholic Women's league, the Junior Ladies' Aid of the Christian Baptist church, the evening branch of the W.A. from St. Paul's Anglican church will each have their own specialty at their table of fancy work and home baking. A feature of the Girl Guide company's booth will be the sale of home-made candy. Mrs. Tom Ingledew will repeat her offering of felt bags in all shapes and designs which proved so popular last year. Teen-age Renee Renzius is following in the footsteps of her famous father, Rudy Renzius. She has been working industriously with him on their exhibit which will include work in pewter and sterling silver. Mr. Renzius will also have many items of his beautiful wood carvings.

Afternoon tea will be served by the Newmarket Home and School Association who will also have a bake table. Miss L. Cutting, King, will offer some of her smaller oil canvases for sale and Mrs. N. L. Mathews will have a variety of handcrafts ready.

Frank Vandenberg will have a wide range of blindercrafts to offer to the purchasing public. Mr. Vandenberg lost his sight about eight years ago. His sewing cabinets and hampers of reed work and the rubber mats made of links from old tires are becoming familiar products in Newmarket.

Do you remember the cuddly wool lambs and fierce spotted leopards which awaited their new owners at Mrs. G. F. McCann's booth last year? Her display will feature a wide selection of toy animals as well as other handcrafts.

David Hood reports that he has several new designs in trays, Miss Helen Richardson will have a display of leather articles and ceramics and the Women's Auxiliary of York County hospital will have a booth. All in all, there should be a great diversity of hobbies exhibited for sale on Tuesday.

Christmas Seals
Have you received your Christmas T.B. seals? They have become a familiar part of the Yuletide season since they were introduced to Canadian citizens in 1908. But we mustn't let this familiarity minimize their importance. Through the sale of these seals x-ray units have been able to provide free chest x-ray examinations throughout the country.

Unknown sufferers of tuberculosis have been discovered and hospitalized. Thousands have been saved by the early diagnosis through these chest x-rays. More than a million of them have been made available by the National Sanitarium association just through the sale of those little bright seals.

Use the T.B. Christmas seals on your parcels and letters not only to add the festive touch, but as proof of your support of the association in its fight against tuberculosis. From the small contributions which each family forwards to the association has resulted the tremendous progress over this disease during recent years.

CLOTHING, SEWING TO AID JAPANESE

The W.M.S. of the Kettleby United church met at the parsonage on Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, with the president, Mrs. Wm. Hodgson, presiding. After the opening worship service, there was a discussion on which of the many projects open to the W.M.S. would be undertaken. The choice was to aid in the clothing and bedding project for Japan and Korea. This would include all age groups.

Anyone in the community who would like to help either by donations of good used clothing or doing sewing is urged to contact the group.

The topic was taken by Mrs. Ray Marshall. She spoke on social service work in Japan. She told of a naval base on Tokyo Bay which has been transformed into a community center, serving all ages in all kinds of ways, of the renovating of fire gutted premises to establish an orphan home. Government grants are being received to help with this work.

It is interesting to note the government is appealing to the Christian workers to help them organize social service work in the cities.

It is by sharing of our abundance that we can help to foster a better feeling between our countries. When we realize that in Japan there are 520 persons per sq. mile and that only one-fifth of the acreage is suitable for cultivation, we can grasp a little the struggle they have for existence and so the church through us is again re-entering Japan, she said.

Mrs. Hodgson closed the meeting. Next month will be election of officers.

THE HOMEMAKERS

"And When The Pie Was Opened"

Everyone has vivid memories of the old rhyme about the "Four and 20 blackbirds, baked in a pie". The pies of 1950 are not apt to be made of blackbirds and when opened, it will be those at the table who have good cause for singing. A meat pie can truly be a dish fit for a king.

Unfortunately many homemakers think of a meat pie as a means of getting rid of a collection of left-overs which are hidden by an uninteresting crust.

The "chef's special" in many large hotels which are famous for their cuisine, is meat pie. Meat pie made at home should also be classed as a treat, with tender topping over a flavorful filling. The rich gravy and the top crust help to stretch the meat. The top crust may be a light baking powder biscuit mixture or a plain pastry.

DOUBLE CRUST MEAT PIE

Pastry
2 cups diced cooked meat
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup coarsely chopped celery or celery leaves
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 cup sliced cooked carrots
1-3 cup cooked or canned peas
1-2 cup cooked or canned green or wax beans
2-3 cup mushroom soup or left-over gravy

Line a deep pie plate with pastry. Make a mixture of the meat, onion, celery and other vegetables in alternate layers in the pie and top with gravy or mushroom soup. Cover with remaining pastry, making gashes to allow steam to escape. Bake in a hot oven at 400 degrees, until pastry is brown, about 35 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Note: Any left-over or canned vegetables may be used to replace all or part of the carrots, peas and beans.

MOCK SQUAB PIE

6 slices cold roast pork or roast lamb
1 medium onion, sliced
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1 medium apple, peeled and sliced
Salt and pepper to taste
3 cups gravy
Pie crust or biscuit dough

Arrange pork, onion, celery and apple in alternate layers in a greased 6-cup casserole until casserole is 3-4 full. Season each layer with salt and pepper to taste. Cover with gravy. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and cover with pie crust or biscuit dough. Continue baking until top is a golden brown, about 30 minutes. Yield: six servings.

CHEESENUT PIE

1 fowl (4 to 5 lbs.) cut in pieces
1 carrot
1 onion
2 stalks celery (chopped)
2 tbsp. minced parsley
1 cup diced potatoes
1 cup sliced carrots

1 clove
3 peppercorns
1/2 cup sliced onion
1/2 cup fat
3 tbsp. flour
Salt and pepper to taste
1 hard-boiled egg, sliced
Baking powder biscuit dough or pastry

Place fowl in kettle and cover with water. Add vegetables and seasonings and simmer (covered) until very tender. Allow fowl to cool in broth. Take from stock and remove meat from bones, cutting the meat in fairly large pieces. Boil stock for half an hour (uncovered). Melt fat. Stir in flour and blend well. Add 2 cups strained stock and cook until thickened, seasoning to taste. Add chicken. Mix well and turn into greased casserole. Cover with slices of hard-cooked egg and place pastry or biscuit dough on top—making sure it is well sealed at the edges and that there are one or two gashes in the centre of the dough to allow steam to escape. If desired, the biscuit dough may be rolled to 1/2" thickness, cut in various shapes and placed close together on top of the chicken mixture. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees to 425 degrees, for about 20 minutes or until crust is done. Yield: six servings.

Line a deep pie plate with pastry. Make a mixture of the meat, onion, celery and other vegetables in alternate layers in the pie and top with gravy or mushroom soup. Cover with remaining pastry, making gashes to allow steam to escape. Bake in a hot oven at 400 degrees, until pastry is brown, about 35 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Note: Any left-over or canned vegetables may be used to replace all or part of the carrots, peas and beans.

New Luxuries in Travel

Your grandfather would be amazed at modern methods of travel. The trains, planes, buses, cars and boats of today provide speed and comfort undreamed of before the "Machine Age"—or the "Chemical Era" as it is sometimes called. For no matter how or where you go, your path is eased by the magic of Chemistry... a science that contributes to travel comfort in countless ways. Plastics in many forms, Paints and Varnishes, Nylon, Chemicals, "Fabrikoid" and "Fibrillite" (luxurious yet practical upholstery materials) all play an important part in the building, equipping and maintenance of all types of modern transportation. Yes, Chemistry, as identified by the C-I-L Oval, is a symbol of progress in the transportation industry, an example of C-I-L "Serving Canadians Through Chemistry".

Small House Plans

THE DALTON has several features of unusual interest. The principal bedrooms are on the second floor and have cross ventilation. One room on the first floor can be converted to several uses, such as a third bedroom, an office or a den. It is within easy reach of both entrances and the first floor toilet.

The side entrance is a little larger than usual, but it serves as a clean-up room, and has both coat closet and lavatory. The living room and the dining room are combined. However, a dinette is included in with the kitchen. The closet space is ample for ordinary needs. Planning has been concentrated especially on the location of the closets to provide for convenient distribution and excellent circulation. Exterior finish is siding and asphalt shingles. Dimensions are 39' by 26', floor area 780 sq. ft. and cubage 17,940, not including garage.

died. It hurts me to think that the public thought council intended to close the lake shore road. I think a highway on the Metropolitan route behind the lake shore is a good thing. It would carry the heavy through traffic from Keswick to Roche's Point.

"We need more subdivisions in the township. They can be opened up and we need the revenue. But we have no room for shacks and slum areas. We need a better employment of a building by-law." Mr. Follock complimented the council on its choice of William Hill as the new chief of police.

"My policy is to serve the best interest of most of the people regardless of opposition, regardless of on whose toes I have to tread. That is my policy of the past and of the future," he said.

"Someone recently suggested that the township employ six policemen. Maybe it would be better if we stopped to think on such a proposal. Maybe it is necessary that we whisper once or twice over the council table. These things have to be weighed and it is not always possible to decide the right policy in a moment; you need to consider all aspects of council business," he said.

Canadians in every walk of life

This is the money that you and 1,800,000 other B of M customers have on deposit at our branches across the nation. To private citizens... to farmers with seasonal incomes... to merchants, manufacturers and businessmen in every worthwhile line of endeavor... to municipalities, school boards and governments... to churches, hospitals and all types of public institutions... hundreds of millions of dollars are being loaned by B of M managers at more than 550 branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Today, more people are saving and more people are borrowing money at "MY BANK" than ever before. You will find the story of these two billion busy dollars in the facts and figures that follow...
